Introduction
Introduction: what is international criminal law?
The aims, objectives and justification of international criminal law
Prosecutions in National Courts
Jurisdiction
National prosecutions of international crimes
State cooperation with respect to national proceedings
International Prosecutions
The history of international criminal prosecutions: Nuremberg and Tokyo
The ad hoc international criminal tribunals
The International Criminal Court
Other courts with international elements
Substantive Law of International Crimes
Genocide
Crimes against humanity
War crimes
Aggression
Transitional crimes, terrorism and torture
General principles of liability
Defences/grounds for excluding criminal responsibility
Procedures of international criminal investigations and prosecutions
Victims in the international criminal process
Sentencing and penalties
Relationship between National and International Systems
State cooperation with the International Courts and Tribunals
Immunities
Alternative and complements to criminal prosecution
The future of international criminal law

Table of Contents provided by Blackwell's Book Services and R.R. Bowker. Used with permission.