Instructional Challenges
You Tend to Teach the Way You Were Taught
You’re Overwhelmed by New Technology
Many Students Performed Poorly on a Test
You’re Confused about Assigning Homework
You’re Unsure How to Write a Good Test
You Teach Many Students at Many Different Levels
Your Students Don’t Stay on Task for Long Periods of Time
Your Students Don’t Participate in Class Discussions
You’re Unsure about Rewarding Your Students
When Being Observed, You Call on Students Who Know the Answers
A Student Asks a Question and You Do Not Know the Answer
After the Test, Your Students Forget What You Have Taught
You Like a Quiet Classroom
You Question Whether You Should Have to Write Lesson Plans
You Need Creative Ideas
Professional Challenges
Another New Program Comes Along
The Person Awarded “Teacher of the Year” Does Not Deserve It
Your Professional Life Is Affecting Your Personal Life
Your Personal Life Is Affecting Your Teaching
You Don’t Have Time for All the After-School Functions
Planning Period Has Become Griping Period
You’re Asked to Take On All the Troubled Students
You’re Afraid of Social Media
You Want to Be More Positive, But It’s Difficult
You Can’t Keep Up with Education’s Buzzwords and Jargon
A Final Word
Index