

Foreword

Introduction: Helping Post-conflict Communities Survive and Thrive

Natural Resource Conflicts, Livelihoods, and Peacebuilding Approaches

Introduction

Social Identity, Natural Resources, and Peacebuilding

Swords into Ploughshares? Access to Natural Resources and Securing Agricultural Livelihoods in Rural Afghanistan

Forest Resources in Cambodia's Transition to Peace: Lessons for Peacebuilding

Post-tsunami Aceh: Successful Peacemaking, Uncertain Peacebuilding

Manufacturing Peace in "No Man's Land": Livestock and Access to Resources in the Karimojong Cluster of Kenya and Uganda

Resolving Natural Resource Conflicts to Help Prevent War: A Case from Afghanistan

Innovative Livelihoods Approaches in Post-conflict Settings

Introduction

The Opportunities and Challenges of Protected Areas for Post-conflict
Peacebuilding

A Peace Park in the Balkans: Cross-border Cooperation and Livelihood
Creation through Coordinated Environmental Conservation

Mountain Gorilla Ecotourism: Supporting Macroeconomic Growth and Providing Local Livelihoods

The Interface between Natural Resources and Disarmament, Demobilization, and Reintegration: Enhancing Human Security in Post-conflict Settings

Demobilized Combatants as Park Rangers: Post-conflict Natural Resource Management in Gorongosa National Park

Utilizing Alternative Livelihood Schemes to Solve Conflict Problems in Sierra Leone's Artisanal Diamond Mining Industry

Linking to Peace: Using BioTrade for Biodiversity Conservation and Peacebuilding in Colombia

The Institutional and Policy Context

Introduction

Fisheries Policies and the Problem of Instituting Sustainable Management:
The Case of Occupied Japan

Developing Capacity for Natural Resource Management in Afghanistan:
Process, Challenges and Lessons Learned by UNEP

Building Resilience in Rural Livelihood Systems as an Investment in Conflict Prevention

Improving Natural Resource Governance and Building Peace and Stability in Mindanao, Philippines

Commerce in the Chaos: Charcoal, Bananas, Fisheries, and Conflict in Somalia

Lessons Learned

Managing Natural Resources for Livelihoods in Post-conflict Societies:
Lessons Learned