Religion and Education: comparative and international perspectives

Edited by
Malini Sivasubramaniam & Ruth Hayhoe

_Oxford Studies in Comparative Education_
Series Editor: David Phillips
Contents

Acknowledgements, 9

Keith Watson. Foreword, 11

Malini Sivasubramaniám & Ruth Hayhoe. Introduction. Religion and Education from a Comparative and International Perspective: issues, tensions and possibilities, 17

SECTION ONE. INTERNATIONALISING/GLOBALISING RELIGIOUS VALUES

Chapter 2. Jun Li. Confucius Institutes and Classrooms as Educational Partnerships in Africa: the 2030 Agenda of Sustainable Development from a Confucian perspective, 51

Chapter 3. Christina Hwang. The Internationalization of Religious Higher Education: a comparative study of Christian universities in South Korea and Canada, 67

Chapter 4. Sarfaroz Niyozov. Islamic Education in Post-Soviet Tajikistan: a tool in creating and sustaining the nation state, 85

Chapter 5. Vilma Seeberg, Shujuan Luo & Ya Na. The Role of the Church and Religious Learning of Young Women Migrant Workers in Western China, 111

Chapter 6. Ruth Hayhoe. Inter-religious Dialogue and Education: three historical encounters between Christianity, Buddhism and Confucianism, 131
SECTION TWO. CURRICULUM, PEDAGOGY AND SCHOOL LEADERSHIP

Chapter 7. Mei-Yee Wong. Religious Education in a Multi-religious Context: an examination of four religious schools in Hong Kong, 151

Chapter 8. Xinyi Wu. State Schooling and Religious Education for Muslim Hui students in Northwestern China: changing perceptions and new developments, 167

Chapter 10. Lauren Herzog & Nathaniel Adams. Modernizing Islamic Education: Bangladesh and Senegal, 203

Chapter 11. Malini Sivasubramaniam & Steve Sider. Faith-based Low-fee Private Schools in Kenya and Haiti: the paradox of philanthropy and enterprise, 225

SECTION THREE. RELIGION IN POLICY PROCESSES AND CONFLICT RESOLUTION

Chapter 14. Huma Kidwai. Mainstreaming Madrassas in India: resistance or co-optation?, 289
Chapter 15. Elena Lisovskaya. Religion's Uneasy Return to the Russian School: a contested and inconsistent desecularization 'from above', 311

Chapter 16. Ratna Ghosh & W.Y. Alice Chan. The Role of Religious Education in Countering Religious Extremism in Diverse and Interconnected Societies, 335

Chapter 17. Bruce A. Collet & Hyeyoung Bang. A Multicultural Analysis of School Policies on Religion in 20 Western Democracies, and Their Challenges for Accommodating Migrant Religions: a cluster analysis, 351

Notes on Contributors, 381