

OWNERS, ANNOTATORS AND THE SIGNS OF READING

Edited by Robin Myers, Michael Harris and Giles Mandelbrote

OAK KNOLL PRESS
&
THE BRITISH LIBRARY
2005

Contents

Introduction	page vii
List of Contributors	xi
List of those attending the Conference	xiii
Rudolf A. Elliott Lockhart	Hugh of St Victor and Twelfth-Century English Monastic Reading 1
William H. Sherman	Toward a History of the Manicule 19
Alan H. Nelson	Shakespeare and the Bibliophiles: from the earliest years to 1616 49
Steven N. Zwicker	'What every literate man once knew': tracing readers in early modern England 75
Lucy Peltz	Facing the Text: the amateur and commercial histories of extra-illustration, c.1770–1840 91
H. J. Jackson	'Marginal Frivolities': readers' notes as evidence for the history of reading 137
Stephen Colclough	'A grey goose quill and an album': the manuscript book and text transmission, 1800–1850 153
Mary Hammond	The Reading Experience Database 1450–1945 175
Katie Sambrook	Appendix 1: Books and their Owners at King's College London 189
Richard Lines	Appendix 2: Swedenborg House and its Library 199
Index	203
Marc Vaublert de Chantilly	The Publishing Pathways Series: cumulative index, with a preface by Nicolas Barker 211