

Identity, Otherness and Empire in Shakespeare's Rome

Edited by

MARIA DEL SAPIO GARBERO

Università Roma Tre, Italy

ASHGATE

Contents

List of Figures	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction
Performing 'Rome' from the Periphery Maria Del Sapio Garbero	1
PART I WHAT IS IT TO BE A ROMAN?
1 Shakespeare's Romulus and Remus: Who Does the Wolf Love? Janet Adelman	19
2 Acting the Roman: Coriolanus Manfred Pfister	35
3 Antony's Ring: Remediating Ancient Rhetoric on the Elizabethan Stage Maddalena Pennacchia	49
4 Other from the Body: Sartorial Metatheatre in Shakespeare's Cymbeline Paola Colaiacomo	61
5 'I am more an antique Roman than a Dane': Suicide, Masculinity and National Identity in Hamlet Drew Daniel	75
INTERCHAPTER
6 Fostering the Question 'Who Plays the Host?' Maria Del Sapio Garbero	91
PART II THE THEATRE OF THE EMPIRE
7 Antony and Cleopatra and the Overflowing of the Roman Measure Gilberto Sacerdoti	107

8	Romans versus Barbarians: Speaking the Language of the Empire in Titus Andronicus Barbara Antonucci	119
9	In Dialogue with the New: Theorizations on the New World in Titus Andronicus Gilberta Golinelli	131
10	Shakespeare's Tales of Two Cities: London and Rome Carlo Pagetti	145
11	Shakespeare's Writing of Rome in Cymbeline Laura Di Michele	157
12	Shakespeare's Rome in Rome's Wooden 'O' Nancy Isenberg	175
CODA
13	'They that have power': the Ethics of the Roman Plays Giorgio Melchiori	191
	Select Bibliography	207
	Index	223