

MONSTROSITY IN LITERATURE, PSYCHOANALYSIS, AND PHILOSOPHY

Edited by
Gerhard Unterthurner and Erik M. Vogt

VERLAG TURIA + KANT
WIEN – BERLIN

CONTENTS

|                      |   |
|----------------------|---|
| Preface ..... | 7 |
|----------------------|---|

LITERATURE

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Ryan Crawford: Monstrous Objects: Moby-Dick and Monomania .....                                      | 17 |
| Benjamin M. Schacht: Dark Visions: Bigger, Max, and Recognition in Richard Wright's Native Son ..... | 35 |
| David Calder: Other Spaces: The Monstrous Sites of Suddenly Last Summer .....                        | 51 |
| Joela Zeller: The Function of Monsters: Loci of Border Crossing and the In-Between .....             | 71 |

PSYCHOANALYSIS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Andrea Wald: Fatal AtTRACTIONS: The Monstrosity of Film Noir ..... | 91  |
| Todd Kesselman: Solaris Rex.....  | 115 |
| Erik M. Vogt: Žižek's Monstrous Figures .....                             | 131 |

PHILOSOPHY

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| James R. Watson: Decomposing Monsters: Red Peter's Way Through the Thick of Things .....                   | 155 |
| James Murphy: Fantastic Monstrosity:A Reconsideration of Violence in the Workof Frantz Fanon. .... | 183 |
| Gerhard Unterthurner: Abnormalityand Monstrosity in Foucault.....                                      | 199 |
| Contributors .....  | 219 |