
Content

15	Ulrike Gehring and Peter Weibel	Preface
----	------------------------------------	---------

1	Mapping Spaces. Art, Science and Technology in the Seventeenth Century
22	Ulrike Gehring	Painted Topographies. A Transdisciplinary Approach to Science and Technology in Seventeenth-century Landscape Painting

2	A Closed Universe in Dissolution
102	Rienk Vermij	The Copernican Revolution and the Geometrization of Physical Space
116	Jan Rohls	Infinite Space. Calvinist Controversies and Theological Accommodations of a New Heaven
124	Jacques Picard	A Multitude of Worlds. Physica Mosaica and David Nieto's Quest for a Jewish Natural Philosophy
130	Inga Elmqvist Söderlund	Heavens and Earth: Early Modern Astronomical Frontispieces

3	New Cartographic Projections in Maps and Globes
138	Andreas Christoph	On Earth and Heaven. Globes as Models of Cosmological Extensions
144	Philipp Ziegler	A New Genre of Cartographic Books: The Atlas Production in the Low Countries
156	Wladimir Velminski	The Tentative View of Cartography
164	Jasper van Putten	The City Book and the Emergence of the Artist-chorographer

4	The Art of Maritime and Celestial Navigation
186	Friso Lammertse	"Embedded Journalist" of Naval Battles: Willem van de Velde I
196	Jenny Gaschke	Shaping the Seascape. Dutch Artists Imaging the Maritime World
204	Thomas Filk	Global Positioning and the Measurement of Time

5	Early Globalization and the Transfer of Knowledge
212	Karel Davids	Colonial, Religious and Commercial Machines: Globalization as an Impulse for Knowledge
220	Harold J. Cook	Commerce, Trade and the Emergence of the New Sciences
232	Pieter Biesboer	Beyond Far Horizons

6	Spaces of Knowledge. Siege Views in the Era of Pieter Snayers
244	Matthias Pfaffenbichler	Documenting Military Events in Seventeenth-century Battle Scenes
254	Walter Kalina	Painting for the General. Pieter Snayers' Piccolomini Cycle
262	Leen Kelchtermans	Honing In on Pieter Snayers' Working Method: Relief of Leuven, 1635

<hr/>
7	Military Architecture and Technology. Fortifications and Inventions in the Art of War
278	Bettina Marten	Sixteenth and Seventeenth-century Fortifications in the Iberian Peninsula and the Netherlands
288	Armin Schlechter	Engraved Title Pages of Fortification Manuals
300	Jeroen Goudeau	The Horizon Besieged. Ways of Capturing Space in Early Modern Fortification Theory
308	Wolfram Dolz	Notch and Bead. The Development of Artillery Instruments for Measuring and Sighting
318	Matteo Valleriani	Agostino Ramelli as Recipient of a New Science of Ballistics
<hr/>
8	Leiden University. Dutch Mathematics and the Training of Military Engineers
332	Willem Otterspeer	The Study of Practical Mathematics at Leiden University
340	Tim Huisman	Mastering the World. Three Collections of Curiosities in the Young Dutch Republic
346	Fokko Jan Dijksterhuis	Geometries of Space. Dutch Mathematics and the Visualization of Distance
354	Hans-Joachim Vollrath	The Didactic Function of Illustrations in Historical Surveying Books
<hr/>
9	Measuring Landscape in Early Seventeenth Century. Mathematical Tools and Surveying Instruments
376	Hans-Ulrich Seifert	From Gunter's Chain to Systematic Triangulation. Geodetically Generated Landscapes in Early Modern Prints
384	Tiemen Cocquyt	The Holland Circle. Instrumental in Establishing the Dutch Surveyor and Instrument Maker's Identity
396	Karsten Gaulke	Benjamin Bramer's "Instrument-Kästlein": Mathematical Equipment for a Young Prince
<hr/>
10	The Invention of Landscape. Land Reclamation and Polder Technology in the Visual Arts
406	Wolfgang Pircher	The Landscape of the Engineer. An Historical Account of Land Reclamation
418	Diederik Aten	Usefulness, Durability and Beauty. Reclaiming and Designing the Beemster Polder, 1607–1612
424	Franz Ossing	Clouds in Seventeenth-century Dutch Landscape Painting. The Urge Toward the Real
432	Michael North	The Rise of a Genre. Landscapes on the Dutch Art Market
<hr/>
11	Aerial Perspective as a Modern Strategy of Warfare
440	Peter Weibel	Media, Mapping and Painting
460	Andreas Beitin	Imagination, Elevation, Battlefield Automation: From the Elevated View to Battle Drones
472	Linnea Semmerling	Living Perspective. A Phenomenological Investigation of Landscape in Painting and Cartography
<hr/>
Appendix	478	Authors' Biographies
	482	Bibliography
	499	Credits/Copyrights
	503	Imprint