

List of Illustrations ix

Preface xi

- 1 A Playful Judgment: The Social Function of Humor 1
 - 2 Kladderadatsch, Simplicissimus, and German History 14
 - 3 Politics as Theater: The Satirical Portrait of the Kaiser and His Subjects 48
 - 4 Köpenick Revisited: The Satirists Look at War and Militarism 103
 - 5 Sex and Satire: Simplicissimus Looks at Family Life 138
 - 6 The Assault of Laughter: The Satirists versus the Establishment 169
 - 7 Kladderadatsch, Simplicissimus, and the Weimar Republic 201
 - 8 Protest and Innovation: Satire and Social Change 222
- Notes 230
- Bibliographical Essay 255
- Index 261

Illustrations

- The Kladderadatsch boy 17
- “The Frankfurt Unification Fair” 18
- “The French People-Watcher” 22
- “Radical, not Palliative” 24
- “The arrow is aimed at the Social Democrats” 26
- “This is how I’ll do my next drawing” 40
- “To Glorious Days” 50
- “Reaction” 56
- A magician named Bülow and a too-talkative king 58
- “The Germans’ Guardian Angel” 70
- “Prussian Electoral Reform” 88
- “In this outfit nothing can happen to me” 90
- “After the Demonstration” 92
- “Frida’s Most Beautiful Christmas Present” 108
- “In the Camp of the Heavenly Host” 112
- “Barracks Brutality” 115

“The Alsatian Bogeyman”	118
“Palestine”	122
“Colonial Powers”	124
“The Moroccan War Fury”	126
“The Education of an Ambassador”	130
“War and Cholera”	134
“In the Name of Culture!”	136
“A Visit to the Master of the House”	146
“The Little Optimist”	148
“Sentimental Education”	166
Two comments on the school system	172
“To the Purity Preachers of Cologne”	186