

CONTENTS

Preface and acknowledgements	iv
Abbreviations and acronyms	viii
PART ONE Lost times, forgotten places
1 From bad to worse? Policing and British Black communities	2
2 Contested fictions: local histories and glimpses of the past	19
PART TWO 1981: That summer in London
3 Shaggy dog riots and copycat rioters: the "riots" in London as a moral panic	52
4 Blame, guilt and "causes" of "riots"	72
5 The reality of insurrection? Empiricism and the search for the "average" rioter	96
PART THREE "Grief"
6 Front Line policing in the 1980s	122
7 Building stages for confrontation: power relations and policing	147
8 Misunderstandings? The resolution of conflict by consultation: assumptions and contradictions	171
PART FOUR Discipline and punish?
9 Strategies of control: the local reality of racial subordination	188
10 Policing reconstructions of reality	208
11 Constructing characters: racialization and criminalization into the 1990s	231
Appendix	257
Bibliography	259
Index of authors cited	275
Subject index	277