

Contents

Acknowledgments / vii

Introduction / ix

Contributors / xxi

PART ONE Assessing Women's Rights Issues in Muslim Societies after Beijing

1. Beyond Beijing: Obstacles and Prospects for the Middle East
Deniz Kandiyoti / 3
2. Fundamentalism and Women's Rights: Lessons from the City of Women
Boutheina Cheriet / 11
3. Women, Islamisms, and State: Dynamics of Power and Contemporary Feminisms in Egypt
Azza M. Karam / 18
4. *Aberrant "Islams" and Errant Daughters:
The Turbulent Legacy of Beijing in Muslim Societies*
Ann Elizabeth Mayer / 29

PART TWO Strategies for Change

5. *Muslim Women's Islamic Higher Learning as a Human Right:
The Action Plan*
Nimat Hafez Barazangi / 43
6. Imagination as Subversion: Narrative as a Tool of Civic Awareness
Azar Nafisi / 58
7. Personal Status Codes and Women's Rights in the Maghreb
Fati Ziai / 72

vi Contents

8. Leadership Development for Young Women: A Model
Sharifah Tahir / 83
9. The Women Studies Program in Palestine: Between Criticism and New Vision
Eileen Kuttab / 94
10. Imperiled Pioneer: An Assessment of the Institute for Women's Studies in the Arab World
Laurie E. King-Irani / 101
11. Claiming Our Rights: A Manual for Women's Human Rights Education in Muslim Societies
Mahnaz Afkhami / 109

PART THREE International Organizations and the Implementation of the Platform for Action

12. International Human Rights Organizations and Advocacy for Change
Maryam Elahi / 123
 13. International Organizations, National Machinery, Islam, and Foreign Policy
Mervat Tallawy / 128
 14. Muslim Law and Women Living under Muslim Laws
Seema Kazi / 141
 15. Gender Equality and the World Bank
Roslyn G. Hees / 147
 16. UNIFEM and Women's Climb to Equality: No Turning Back
Noeleen Heyzer and Ilana Landsberg-Lewis / 153
- Notes / 165
- Bibliography / 179
- Index / 187

TABLES

1. National Machinery, by Region / 130
2. Countries with a National Machinery / 131