

Contents

A. Introduction	1
B. A General Trade Model.....	6
I. Introduction	6
II. Environmental Regulation in an International Trade Model with Perfect Competition.....	10
1. The Behavior of the Production Sector	11
2. The Behavior of the Household Sector.....	16
3. Environmental Policy in a Small Country	17
4. Environmental Policy in a Large Country	22
III. Environmental Policy and International Capital Mobility.....	28
1. Environmental Policy in a Small Country	30
2. Environmental Policy in a Large Country	35
IV. Environmental Regulation in a Small Open Economy and the Interaction with Other Distortions.....	40
1. Consumption Taxes	41
2. Labor Market Distortions	43
3. Trade Distortions	44
V. Conclusions	46
VI. Appendix: Cost Functions and Equilibrium.....	48
C. Static Strategic Models	50
I. Introduction	50
II. Strategic Environmental Policy and Competitiveness: The Basic Results	51
III. Environmental Policy and Technology Choice	57

IV.	A Two-Stage Game	59
V.	A Three-Stage Game	65
VI.	Environmental Policy, Free Market Entry, and the Location of Industries.....	72
VII.	Conclusions	73
D.	A Dynamic Strategic Model	74
I.	Introduction	74
II.	A Specified Dynamic Model	76
III.	A General Dynamic Model	81
IV.	Conclusions	86
E.	Empirical Evidence: A Survey of the Literature.....	87
I.	Introduction	87
II.	Empirical Evidence for the Impact of Environmental Regulation an International Competitiveness.....	91
1.	Trade Patterns	92
2.	Environmental Regulation and Investment.....	95
3.	Plant Location.....	95
4.	Firm Level and Industry Level	96
5.	National Level	98
III.	Conclusions	99
F.	A Case Study of the Titanium Dioxide Industry	101
I.	Introduction	101
II.	Production Processes.....	102
1.	The Sulfate Process	102
2.	The Chloride Process.....	103
III.	Waste Disposal Methods.....	104

IV.	Environmental Regulation.....	105
V.	The Industry Structure.....	107
VI.	Evidence for Environmental Regulation Effecting Competitiveness	108
VII.	Conclusions	111
G.	A Case Study of the Pulp and Paper Industry.....	113
I.	Introduction	113
II.	The Production of Pulp and Paper.....	114
III.	Different Regulation Schemes and Claimed Effects	116
IV.	Empirical Evidence	121
V.	Conclusions	126
H.	Summary	128
I.	Theoretical Results	129
II.	Empirical Results	135
III.	Conclusions and Outlook	139
References	142
Index	153

List of Tables

Table C.1 — Profits under Different Market Strategies	52
Table C.2 — The Influence of Strategic Subsidies on Profits.....	54
Table C.3 — The Influence of Strategic Taxes on Profits	54
Table C.4 — The Influence of Bilateral Strategic Subsidies on Profits	57
Table C.5 — The Two-Stage Approach.....	60
Table C.6 — The Three-Stage Approach.....	65
Table D.1 — Overview of the Dynamic Model	76
Table D.2 — Profits for Options I and II.....	79
Table D.3 — Comparison of Options for Different Discount Factors by the Sum of Discounted Profits	80
Table D.4 — A Dynamic Approach	82
Table E.1 — Share of Abatement Costs in GDP.....	91
Table E.2 — RWS in Environmentally Intensive Commodities for 10 Industrial Countries, 1988.....	93
Table E.3 — RCAs for Environmentally Intensive Commodities	94
Table E.4 — RCAs of the German Environmental Technology Industry in 1991	98
Table F.1 — Residues of the Sulfate Process per Tonne of TiO ₂	103
Table F.2 — Residues of the Chloride Process per Tonne of TiO ₂	103
Table F.3 — Production Capacities of Producers and Regions in 1990	108
Table F.4 — Environmental Investments Made by Kronos in Germany.....	109
Table G.1 — Pulp Imports and Exports of Selected European Countries, 1992	115
Table G.2 — National Initiatives Concerning Pulp and Paper Mill Effluent in the United States and Sweden.....	117
Table G.3 — Summary of Environmental Regulations Effects.....	118
Table G.4 — Standard International Trade Classification Concerning the Pulp and Paper Industry	122

Table G.5 —RCA Values for Products of SITC 25 for the United States, Sweden, Germany and Finland.....	123
Table G.6 —RCA Values for Products of SITC 64 for the United States, Sweden, Germany and Finland.....	124
Table G.7 —RCA Values for Products of SITC 725 for the United States, Sweden, Germany and Finland.....	125

List of Figures

Figure C.1 —The Impact of Stricter Environmental Regulation on Research and Development and Costs.....	56
Figure D.1 —Reduction Costs as a Function of Aggregated R&D Programs	77