

Contents

Contributors	viii
1 Victimology, Victimisation and Public Policy	1
Pamela Davies, Peter Francis and Victor Jupp
Introduction	1
Victimological Perspectives	2
Researching Victims of Crime	5
Victimisation and Concern about Crime	10
Risk, Crime and Victimization	12
Victims, Public Policy and Practice	19
References	24
2 Can There be a Feminist Victimology?	28
Sandra Walklate
Introduction	28
Gendering Victimology	29
Science Constructs the Male and the Female	34
Feminism and Victimology: A Contradiction in Terms?	36
Critical Victimology: A Feminist-Informed Alternative?	38
Conclusion	42
References	43
3 Youth, Risk and Victimization	46
John Muncie
Introduction	46
Victims of Crime	47
Under-Protected: Victims of Family Violence	49
Under-Protected: Victims of Institutional Violence	51
Over-Controlled: Policing and Routine Surveillance	53
Governing the Young	55
Conclusion	58
References	59

4 Old Age and Victimisation	61
Rachel Pain
Introduction	61
Rates of Victimisation	62
The Impact of Victimisation	66
Conceptualising Older People and Victimisation	72
Policy Approaches to Reducing Older People's Victimisation and Fear	73
Summary and Agenda	75
Acknowledgement	77
References	77
5 Communities and Victimisation	80
Karen Evans and Penny Fraser
Introduction	80
The Spatial Patterning of Crime	81
The Relationship between Crime and Locality	83
Crime and Community	86
Tackling Victimisation: Exercises in 'Community Crime Prevention'	88
Conclusion	97
Note	98
References	98
6 Crime Victims and Public Policy	101
Pamela Davies
Introduction	101
Victims and the Police	102
Victims, the Crown Prosecution Service and the Courts	108
Victims, Criminal Injuries Compensation and Restorative Justice	112
Victims and the Probation Service	115
Conclusion	118
References	119
7 Victims of Surveillance	121
Michael McCahill and Clive Norris
Introduction	121
Surveillance Technologies and Locations	122

The 'Victims' of Surveillance	128
Fairness	129
The Misappropriation of Personal Information	134
False Knowledge and Negative Consequences	137
Discussion	140
References	145
Websites	147
8 The Provision of Victim Support and Assistance
Programmes: A Cross-National Perspective	148
Rob Mawby
Introduction	148
Victim Assistance Programmes: An Overview	149
Summary	166
Notes	168
References	168
9 Preventing Harm, Promoting Harmony	172
Martin Wright
Introduction	172
Victimisation	173
Towards a Restorative Response	178
Notes	184
References	185
Glossary of Terms	187
Index	188