

THE CLASS STRUCTURE OF THE ADVANCED SOCIETIES

Anthony Giddens

Lecturer in Sociology
University of Cambridge

HUTCHINSON UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
LONDON

CONTENTS

Preface	9
Introduction	13
1 MARX'S THEORY OF CLASSES	23
1. Fundamentals of Marx's model	26
2. Capitalism and capitalist development	33
2 THE WEBERIAN CRITIQUE	41
1. Class and status groups	42
2. Conception of capitalism	45
3. Marx and Weber	50
3 SOME LATER THEORIES	53
1. Dahrendorf: classes in post-capitalist society	53
2. Aron: industrial society	59
3. Ossowski: images and concepts of class	63
4 MARX'S CRITICS: A CRITIQUE	69
1. The recent critics	69
2. Max Weber	78
3. Conclusion	81
5 THE MARXIAN STANDPOINT REASSESSED	82
1. Class and the division of labour	82
2. The genesis of class conflict	91

3.	Productive and unproductive labour	94
4.	The form of class relationships	97
6	RETHINKING THE THEORY OF CLASS (I)	99
1.	Formal properties of the class concept	100
2.	The structuration of class relationships	107
3.	Contradiction and the genesis of class consciousness	112
7	RETHINKING THE THEORY OF CLASS (II)	118
1.	Elites and power	118
2.	The nature of class exploitation	127
3.	The concept of class society	132
4.	The notion of classlessness	135
8	THE PROBLEM OF CAPITALIST DEVELOPMENT	139
1.	'Capitalism' and 'industrial society'	139
2.	Capitalism in nineteenth-century Europe	143
3.	Capitalism and the origins of state socialism	152
9	THE INSTITUTIONAL MEDIATION OF POWER AND THE MEDIATION OF CONTROL	156
1.	Is it still capitalist society?	156
2.	The upper class in capitalist society	164
3.	The mediation of control and the 'managerial revolution'	167
10	THE GROWTH OF THE NEW MIDDLE CLASS	177
1.	The conditions of middle-class structuration	179
2.	Sources of differentiation within the middle class	186
3.	White-collar unionisation	188
4.	Proletarians or not? The theory of the 'new working class'	192
11	THE WORKING CLASS IN CAPITALIST SOCIETY	198
1.	The structuration of the working class	199
2.	The origins of conflict consciousness	202
3.	Unionisation and economism	207
4.	The 'new working class'—again	215
12	STATE SOCIALISM AND CLASS STRUCTURATION	223
1.	Variations in infrastructure and development	223

Contents	7
2. Differentials in market capacity	226
3. Levels of class structuration	230
4. Management and authority in the enterprise	233
5. The growth of the intelligentsia	235
13 CLASS AND PARTY IN STATE SOCIALIST SOCIETY	238
1. The conception of the 'new class'	238
2. Elite formations and the mediation of control	241
3. Sources of tension in state socialist society	244
4. Industrialism and social change: a summary	252
14 CLASSES IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIETY	255
1. Critique of technocratic theories	255
2. Technique and the modern social order	264
3. The relevance of class analysis	269
15 THE FUTURE OF CLASS SOCIETY	275
1. Rationalism, classes, and bureaucracy	275
2. Classes, class conflict	282
3. Old classes and new conflicts: the problem of neo-capitalism	287
4. Exploitation and classlessness	293
References and Notes	295
Works cited in the text	317
Index	325