CIVIC CULTURE AND EVERYDAY LIFE IN EARLY MODERN GERMANY

BY

BERND ROECK

BRILL

LEIDEN · BOSTON
2006
CONTENTS

List of Illustrations .............................................. xi
Foreword .......................................................... xiii

Chapter One  Introduction ........................................ 1
  1. Cultural Significance of the German Citizen from the Late Medieval to the Early Modern Period .......... 1
  2. On Terminology: Bürgertum, Culture, Ways of Living, and Environment ............................................... 2
  3. The Citizens and Rural Society ................................ 7

Chapter Two  The Character of the Early Modern City in the Holy Roman Empire ............................................. 15
  1. Geography .......................................................... 15
  2. Vedute: The Ideal and the Reality of the City .......... 17
  3. City Planning and Construction ............................. 20
  4. The Ideal and the Planned City ............................... 22
  5. The Burgher’s House ............................................. 24
  6. Cobblestones and Filth .......................................... 30

Chapter Three  The Burghers’ Lifestyle .......................... 32
  1. The “Burgher House” and its Furnishings: Problems of Research ......................................................... 32
  2. Spheres of Life ..................................................... 35
  3. Household Culture: Lighting and Heating ............... 37
  4. Organization of the Rooms ...................................... 40
  5. Furnishings and Living Atmosphere .......................... 45
  6. Periodization ....................................................... 50
  7. Economic and Social Prerequisites for Change ............ 52

Chapter Four  Aspects of the Daily Life .......................... 56
  1. Organization of Time, Daily Routine ....................... 56
  2. Meals and Drinks .................................................. 59
  3. Table Manners ....................................................... 62
  4. Clothing and Fashion ............................................ 65
  5. Hygiene ............................................................ 69
  6. Lifestyles and the Process of Civilization .................. 71
Chapter Five  The Burgher Family .................................................. 81
  1. Aspects of Recent Research ................................................ 81
  2. The “Whole House” .............................................................. 84
  3. Values ................................................................................. 85
  4. New Avenues for Research .................................................... 86

Chapter Six  Historical Microcosms: The Life of the Individual .................................................. 89
  1. Youth and Education ............................................................. 89
  2. Marriage .............................................................................. 97
  3. Death .................................................................................. 100

Chapter Seven  Beyond Daily Life: Amusements, Music and Dance, Entertainment and Theater .................................................. 104
  1. Leisure and Free-time ........................................................... 104
  2. Music and Dance .................................................................. 108
  3. Theater ................................................................................ 111
  4. Developments in the 18th Century: The Concert Hall and Burgher Theater with Circles and Balconies ....... 115

Chapter Eight  Bürgertum and the Arts .................................................. 118
  1. Art as History ................................................................. 118
  2. The Rise of the Artist ......................................................... 123
  3. Works of Art in the City ....................................................... 125
  4. Urban Architecture .............................................................. 127
  5. The Art Market and the Collecting of Art ......................... 132
  6. The Cultural Centrality of Church and Court in the 17th and 18th Centuries .................................................. 135

Chapter Nine  Bürgertum and Humanism .................................................. 138
  1. Italy and Germany .............................................................. 138
  2. Paths of Cultural Transfer .................................................. 140
  3. Significance of the Urban World for the Expansion of Humanist Culture .................................................. 141
  4. Humanism and Education .................................................. 144

Chapter Ten  Burgher Culture in the Baroque and Enlightenment: Phases and Institutions .................................................. 147
  1. The Problem of Periodization and Epochs ......................... 147
  2. Institutions and Means of Discourse .................................. 149
  3. The Enlightenment and Criticism: Tendencies towards Politicization .................................................. 155
Chapter Eleven The Cultural Function of the German City in the 17th and 18th Centuries ........................................ 159

Chapter Twelve The Way to Arcadia ...................................... 166

Chapter Thirteen The Invention of the Cultural History of the German Bourgeoisie: Artworks as Sources and Lieux de mémoire ................................................................. 170
1. Pictures of German Burgher Culture during the Early Modern Period: Some Remarks Concerning Quellenkritik .................................................................................. 170
2. The Image of the Burgher: What Portraits Tell Us ........... 175
3. The German Bildungsbürgertum (the Educated Middle Classes) and the Cultural History of Early Modern Europe: The Image of the 19th Century ......................... 180
4. The Lieux de mémoire .............................................................. 184
5. Was There an Early Modern German National Culture? .................................................................................. 189

Sources ......................................................................................... 195
1. In search of beauty: Albrecht Dürer in Italy .......... 197
From Albrecht Dürer's letters and his art-theory (1506)
2. A Southern German Imperial city at the beginning of the 16th century ................................................. 199
From Johannes Cochlaeus' Germania (1512)
3. A mastersinger as Luther's follower ......................... 203
Hans Sachs, The Nightingale of Wittenberg (1523)
4. Ghosts and heretics in old Basel ........................... 204
From the memoir of Felix Platter (1540/1559)
5. A document of the civilization process ....................... 207
From Friedrich Dedekinds Grobianus (1549)
6. The city of the Fugger: The bi-confessional Augsburg .... 213
From Michel de Montaignes' Diary of a Journey to Spas (1580/1581)
7. Conjugal love in the 16th century .............................. 216
From the correspondence of Magdalena and Balathasar Paumgartner (1582–1594)
8. Everyday life in Cologne during the 16th century ........ 222
From Hermann von Weinsberg's memoirs (1589/90)
9. Travelling Experiences in Germany in the Year of 1611: Baden und Frankfurt .................................................. 226
From Thomas Coryate's Crudities
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chapter</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>The horrors of the Thirty Years' War</td>
<td>232</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The besieged city of Augsburg (1634/35)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>Life remembrances of 17th-century architect</td>
<td>234</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Elias Holl's House Chronicle (before 1646)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td>An agent of an artist's fame</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Joachim von Sandrart's Teutscher Academie (German Academy) (1675)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13</td>
<td>How to manage a Christian household</td>
<td>239</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Franciscus Florinus' House-Rules (1705)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td>A French glance at Berlin and Hamburg</td>
<td>241</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Johann Caspar Riesbeck's Letters of a Travelling Frenchman (1739)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
<td>An enlightened glance at old cities</td>
<td>244</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Wilhelm Ludwig Wekhrlin's Anselmus Rabiosus (1778)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td>Enlightenment and tolerance</td>
<td>246</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The &quot;Ringparabel&quot; (Parable of the ring) in Lessing's Nathan the Wise</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>17</td>
<td>The most famous definition of Enlightenment</td>
<td>251</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Immanuel Kant, What is Enlightenment? (1784)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>18</td>
<td>Education in the period of Enlightenment</td>
<td>258</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Legal rules for relations between parents and children (1794)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19</td>
<td>A boyhood in 18th-century Frankfurt</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Goethe's Poetry and Truth</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>20</td>
<td>The German national character</td>
<td>264</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>From Germaine de Staël, On Germany (1813)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Select Bibliography (Works after 1991) ............................................. 267
Index .............................................................................................................. 275