THE PROTECTION OF WELL-KNOWN MARKS IN ASIA

Editors

Christopher Heath
Kung-Chung Liu

Max Planck Institute
for Foreign and International
Patent, Copyright and Competition Law

KLUWER LAW INTERNATIONAL
THE HAGUE • LONDON • BOSTON
Contents

Preface xi
List of Contributors xiii
Introduction xvii

Professor William Cornish

1 Protection of Well-known Marks and Prevention of Trade Mark Piracy
Christopher Heath

A. Protection of Well-known Indications
   I. Territoriality and specificity of marks 1
   II. Article 6bis of the Paris Convention 3
   III. Subsequent developments 5
   IV. Article 16(2) and (3) of the TRIPs Agreement 6
   V. After TRIPs 8
   VI. Comparative overview 9

B. Prevention of Trade Mark Piracy 14
   I. General introduction 14
   II Principles of unfair competition and prevention of trade mark piracy 18

2 The Protection of Well-known Marks in China
Professor Peter Feng

A. Introduction 27
B. Basic Design and Principles of the Current Trade Mark System 31
C. Protection of Well-known Marks in Judicial Practice 36
   I. The substantive 'average consumer' test of similarity 38
   II. Names, get-ups and decorations unique to well-known goods 39
   III. Damages to goodwill with respect to well-known marks 41
3 The Protection of Well-known Marks in Taiwan
Kung-Chung Liu
A. Well-known Marks: From Foreign Imposition to Domestic Necessity
   I. Statutory provisions
   II. Practical application
C. The Fair Trade Law
   I. Section 20
   II. Section 24
   III. Remedies
D. Other Remedies
E. Some Thoughts on the Protection of Well-known Marks
   I. The concept of 'well-known marks'
   II. The scope of protection for well-known marks

4 The Protection of Well-known Marks in Japan
Christopher Heath
A. Introduction
   I. History, legal system and international agreements
   II. Cultural and legal peculiarities
B. Protection under Trade Mark Law
   I. General principles
   II. Obstacles to registration
   III. Defensive marks
   IV. Associated marks
   V. Reasons for cancellation
C. Protection under Unfair Competition Prevention Law
   I. General introduction and legal framework
   II. Protection of widely known indications against confusion
   III. The protection of famous marks
D. Remedies
   I. Opposition/Cancellation
   II. Injunctive relief
   III. Damages
III. What may be registered 140
IV. What may not be registered 140
V. First-to-file principle and right of prior use 142
VI. Application procedure 142
D. Protection of Well-known Marks 143
   I. Concept 143
   II. Precedents 144
E. Enforcement 145
   I. General situation 145
   II. Administrative action 147
   III. Civil action 149
   IV. Criminal action 149
   V. Future prospects for enforcing intellectual property rights in Vietnam 150
F. Conclusion 151

8 The Protection of Well-known Marks in Thailand 153
Boonma Tejavanija
   A. Overview 153
      I. In general 153
      II. Trade mark law 154
   B. The 1991 Trade Mark Act 154
      I. In general 154
      II. Provisions on well-known marks 155
      III. Case law 156
      IV. Criteria for affirming recognition 158

9 The Protection of Well-known Marks in the Philippines 175
Alex Ferdinand S. Fider
   A. Introduction 175
   B. The IP Code and the Protection of Marks in General 176
   C. Special Considerations for the Protection of Well-known Marks 176
   D. Criteria for Determining whether a Mark is Well-known 178
   E. Remedies Available to the Trade Mark Owner 180
   F. Test of Infringement 181
      I. Test of comparing the dominant features 181
      II. Test of comparing marks in their entirety 182
      III. Doctrine of secondary meaning 183
      IV. Phonetic similarity 183
      V. Use of a similar mark on non-related goods 184
CONTENTS

10 The Protection of Well-known Marks in Malaysia
Ambiga Sreenevasan and John Chong
A. Introduction 189
B. Characteristics of a Well-known Mark 190
   I. Reputation without use 190
   II. Protection beyond the same field of activity 193
   III. Protection against dilution 195
C. Defensive trade marks 196
D. Conclusion 197

11 The Protection of Well-known Marks in Indonesia
Christoph Antons
A. Introduction: 'Trade Mark Entrepreneurs' and the Indonesian Trade Mark System 199
B. Lack of good faith in Using and Registering the Trade
   Mark 201
C. Protection of Well-known Trade Marks via Legislation:
   The Trade Marks Act of 1992 205
D. Well-known Trade Marks after the 1997 Amendment of the Trade Marks Act 211
E. Conclusion 212

Further Reading 215
Index 217