

Crime and Culture

An Historical Perspective

Edited by

AMY GILMAN SREBNICK

RENÉ LÉVY

ASHGATE

Contents

List of Tables, Figures, Maps and Graphs	vii
List of Contributors	ix
Introduction	xiii

PART I: CRIME AND THE CONSTRUCTION OF HISTORICAL NARRATIVE

1	Does the Representation Fit the Crime? Some Thoughts on Writing Crime History as Cultural Text Amy Gilman Srebnick	3
---	---	---

PART II: DISCOURSE AND NARRATIVE IN THE HISTORY OF CRIMINOLOGY

2	Criminological Language and Prose from the Late Eighteenth to the Early Twentieth Centuries Peter Becker	23
3	Science and Narrative in Italian Criminology, 1880-1920 Mary Gibson	37
4	'Robert Heindl's Berufsverbrecher ': Police Perceptions of Crime and Criminals and Structures of Crime Control in Germany during the First Half of the Twentieth Century Herbert Reinke	49

PART III: THE RECONSTRUCTION OF EVENTS IN POLICE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE HISTORY

5	Narratives of Crime, Historical Interpretation and the Course of Human Events: The Becker Case and American Progressivism Allen Steinberg	63
6	Sergeant Goddard: The Story of a Rotten Apple, or a Diseased Orchard? Clive Emsley	85

- 7 Competing Memories: Resistance, Collaboration and the Purge of the French Police after World War II
Jean-Marc Berlière 105
- 8 Facts and Fiction in Police Illegalisms: The Case of Controlled Deliveries of Drugs in France in the Early 1990s
René Lévy 121

PART IV: REPRESENTATIONS OF CRIMES AND CRIMINALS

- 9 Private Crimes and Public Executions: Discourses on Guilt
in the Arrêts Criminels of the Eighteenth-Century Parliament of Paris
Pascal Bastien 141
- 10 Rebels or Bandits? The Representations of the 'Peasants' War' in Belgian Departments under French Rule (1798)
Xavier Rousseaux 163
- 11 The Multiple Lives of the Hungarian Highwayman
Mónika Mátay and György Csepeli 183
- 12 From Old Cap Collier to Nick Carter; Or, Images of Crime and Criminal Justice in American Dime Novel Detective Stories, 1880-1920
Wilbur R. Miller 199
- Index* 211