

ON PUNISHMENT
THE CONFRONTATION OF SUICIDE
IN OLD-EUROPE

Lieven Vandekerckhove

Universitaire Pers Leuven
2000

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PART 1
ON PUNISHMENT. A QUESTION	9
Chapter 1.1
Introduction	11
1.1.1. The nature of punishment	11
1.1.2. The former punishment of suicidal behaviour	12
Chapter 1.2
An Historical Explanation?	15
1.2.1. Historical origins	15
1.2.2. Historiographical reconstruction	16
1.2.3. An historical explanation?	22
1.2.4. Surprising historical origins	27
1.2.5. A sociological interpretation	32
PART 2
ON PUNISHMENT. AN EXAMPLE	39
Chapter 2.1
Corporal Punishment for Suicidal Behaviour	43
2.1.1. “Like a beast”	43
2.1.2. The dragging	47
2.1.3. The “execution”	53
2.1.4. The “posthumous” punishment	59
2.1.5. The attempted suicide	68
Chapter 2.2
The Criminal Proceedings	73
2.2.1. A gradual conditioning of the punishment	73
2.2.2. Investigation, proof, trial	77

2.2.3. Incapacity for guilt	85
Chapter 2.3
The Patrimonial Penalty	95
2.3.1. Confiscation as punishment for suicide	95
2.3.2. The object of confiscation	100
2.3.3. The allocation of the confiscated property	110
2.3.4. Privileges of non-confiscation	116
2.3.5. Le ravage	119
Chapter 2.4
Suicide Decriminalised	121
2.4.1. The call for a dignified penal law	122
2.4.2. The decriminalisation: positions for and against	125
2.4.3. Decriminalisation in Flanders	130
PART 3
ON PUNISHMENT. AN HYPOTHESIS	139
Chapter 3.1
The Punishment Rationalised	143
3.1.1. A collection of absurdities?	143
3.1.2. A deterrent?	145
3.1.3. Societal defence?	149
Chapter 3.2
From Symbolism to Origins	155
3.2.1. Symbolism	155
3.2.2. Origins	163
3.2.3. Conclusion	170
Bibliography	175