

A World View of Criminal Justice

RICHARD VOGLER
University of Sussex

ASHGATE

Contents

Preface	vii
1 Understanding Criminal Process: A Three-Dimensional World View	i
PART I: THE INQUISITORIAL TRADITION	17
2 The European Inquisitorial Tradition	23
3 The French Revolution in Criminal Justice	45
4 Regimes of Terror: Inquisition-Process in the 20th Century	61
5 Maoism and the Chinese Inquisitorial Tradition	91
6 Islamic Criminal Justice: Theocratic Inquisitoriality	105
PART II: THE ADVERSARIAL TRADITION	127
7 The Anglo-American Adversarial Tradition	131
8 The Great Due Process Revolution: Adversariality in Europe and Latin America	157
9 Adversariality and the Collapse of 'Socialist Legality'	177
PART III: THE POPULAR JUSTICE TRADITION	195
10 Origins of the English Jury	199
11 Juries Originating in the British Overseas Empire	215
12 The European Jury	233

13 Direct Popular Participation: Village Courts and Popular Tribunals	255
14 Criminal Justice Reform	277
Bibliography	287
Index	323