International Criminal Law, Transnational Criminal Organizations and Transitional Justice

By

Héctor Olásolo
Contents

List of Abbreviations xi
Foreword xiv

PART 1
Foundations of International Criminal Law

1 Definition, Protected Values and Goals of International Criminal Law 3
   A Definition and Protected Values 3
   B Goals 7

2 Historical Evolution of International Criminal Law 12

3 Normative Hierarchy of the Norms Prohibiting International Crimes 21
   A Jurisprudence of International and Hybrid Criminal Tribunals 22
   B General Comments and Concluding Observations of the Human Rights Committee: The Situations in Spain and Northern Ireland 23
   C Jurisprudence of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights 26
   D Jurisprudence of the International Court of Justice and the European Court of Human Rights 29
   E Final Remarks 31

PART 2
The Scope of Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes Since the End of the Cold War

4 The Scope of Criminal Proceedings in International and Hybrid Criminal Tribunals 37
   A The Scope of Criminal Proceeding in the International Criminal Tribunals for the Former Yugoslavia and Rwanda 37
   B The Scope of Criminal Proceedings in the International Criminal Court 41
   C The Scope of Criminal Proceedings in Hybrid Criminal Tribunals 46
   D Final Remarks 52
5 The Scope of Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes in National Jurisdictions 59
   A The Long Struggle for the Investigation and Prosecution of International Crimes Committed in Argentina by the Military Dictatorship (1976–1983) 60
      A.1 The Crimes: 1976–1983 60
      A.3 Criminal Proceedings Since 2005 66
   B The Scope of Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes in National Jurisdictions of Territorial States 69
   C The Scope of Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes in Foreign National Jurisdictions Acting under the Principle of Universal Jurisdiction 73

PART 3

International Criminal Law and Transnational Criminal Organizations

6 How Do Transnational Criminal Organizations Operate? 79
   A Introduction to the Phenomenon of Transnational Crime 79
   B Transnational Criminal Organizations 80
   C Mexican Drug Cartels and Their Structural Connexion with Public Authorities 82
   D Colombian bacrims 87
   E Final Remarks: The Situation of the Japanese Yakuza 89

7 Is International Criminal Law an Appropriate Mechanism to Deal with Transnational Criminal Organizations? 91
   A Initial Approach to the Problem 91
   B The Distinct Nature of Transnational Criminal Law and International Criminal Law 92
   C Do Some of the Most Serious Acts of Violence by Transnational Criminal Organizations Constitute Crimes against Humanity and Thus Legitimize an International Criminal Law Response? 97
PART 4

International Criminal Law and Transitional Justice

8 Definition and Scope of Transitional Justice: Should It be Applied to Situations of Large Scale Violence by Transnational Criminal Organizations? Special Attention to the Situation in Mexico 105
   A Historical Precedents 105
   B Definition 106
   C The Scope of Transitional Justice: Should Transitional Justice be Applied to Situations of Large Scale Violence by Transnational Criminal Organizations Like in Mexico? 107

9 The Tension between Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes and Truth Commissions as Central Elements of a Liberal Approach to Transitional Justice 110
   A Introduction to a Liberal Approach to Transitional Justice 110
   B Initial Approach to the Tension between Criminal Proceedings and Truth Commissions: The Reactions to the 2 October 2016 Referendum on the Peace Agreement between the Colombian Government and the FARC 111
   C Strengths and Weaknesses of Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes 112
   D Strengths and Weaknesses of Truth Commissions 113
      D.1 The Treatment of Structural Violence by Truth Commissions: The Armed Conflict in Colombia as a Paradigmatic Example of Structural Violence and Concerns About the Mandate of the Commission for the Clarification of Truth, Coexistence and Non-Repetition in Colombia 114
      D.2 The Tension between Furthering Truth Recovery and Protecting Political Commitment: The Cases of Northern Ireland and Spain 121
   E Is It Possible to Articulate Truth Commissions and Criminal Proceedings for International Crimes to Overcome Their Respective Limitations? 124

10 From a Social-Democratic Approach to Transitional Justice to the Contributions of Critical Theories 127
   A Introduction to a Social-Democratic Approach to Transitional Justice 127
   B The Tension between Individual and Collective Elements of Reparation Programs 128