MARKETISATION
AND PRIVATISATION
IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Edited by Kevin Albertson, Mary Corcoran
and Jake Phillips
Contents

List of figures and tables vi
List of acronyms vii
Notes on contributors x
Acknowledgements xvii

Introduction: marketisation and privatisation in criminal justice: an overview
Kevin Albertson, Mary Corcoran and Jake Phillips

PART I Introduction and theoretical frameworks
1 Market society utopianism in penal politics 15

Mary Corcoran

2 Outcomes-based contracts in the UK public sector 31

Chris Fox and Kevin Albertson

3 The carceral state and the interpenetration of interests: commercial, governmental and civil society interests in criminal justice

James Gacek and Richard Sparks

4 Understanding the privatisation of probation through the lens of Bourdieu's field theory 59

Jake Phillips

5 The progress of marketisation: the prison and probation experience 75

Kevin Albertson and Chris Fox

PART II Experiences of marketisation in the public sector
6 The 'soft power' of marketisation: the administrative assembling of Irish youth justice work
Katharina Swirak

7 Police outsourcing and labour force vulnerability 107

Roxanna Dehaghani and Adam White
Marketisation or corporatisation? Making sense of private influence in public policing across Canada and the US
Kevin Walby and Randy K. Lippert

Marketisation and competition in criminal legal aid: implications for access to justice
Tom Smith and Ed Johnston

Holding private prisons to account: what role for Controllers as ‘the eyes and ears of the state’?
Joanna Hargreaves and Amy Ludlow

A flawed revolution? Interrogating the Transforming Rehabilitation changes in England and Wales through the prism of a Community Justice Court
Jill Annison, Tim Auburn, Daniel Gilling and Gisella Hanley Santos

PART III Marketisation and the voluntary sector
12 Constructive ambiguity, market imaginaries and the penal voluntary sector in England and Wales
Mary Corcoran, Mike Maguire and Kate Williams

13 Marketisation of women’s organisations in the criminal justice sector
Vickie Cooper and Maureen Mansfield

14 Surviving the revolution? The voluntary sector under Transforming Rehabilitation in England and Wales
Kevin Wong and Rob Macmillan

PART IV Beyond institutions: marketisation beyond the criminal justice institution
15 Neo-liberal imaginaries and GPS tracking in England and Wales
Mike Nellis

16 Misery as business: how immigration detention became a cash cow in Britain’s borders
Monish Bhatia and Victoria Canning
Contents

17 Prison education: a Northern European wicked policy problem?
   Gerry Czerniawski

18 Making local regulation better? Marketisation, privatisation and the erosion of social protection
   Steve Tombs

19 The 'fearsome frowning face of the state' and ex-prisoners: promoting employment or alienation, anger and perpetual punishment?
   Del Roy Fletcher

Conclusion: what has been learned
   Kevin Albertson, Mary Corcoran and Jake Phillips

Index