The Politics of International Criminal Law

Edited by

Holly Cullen, Philipp Kastner and Sean Richmond
Contents

Acknowledgements vii
Notes on Contributors viii

The Politics of International Criminal Law 1
Holly Cullen, Philipp Kastner and Sean Richmond

PART 1
The Politics of International Criminal Law in Theory and Practice

1 Bridge over Troubled Water – A Semantic Approach to Purposes and Goals in International Criminal Justice 27
   Alexander Heinze

2 The Politics of International Criminal Justice: Hegemony and Humanity at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia 56
   Shannon Maree Torrens

3 Constructing International Criminal Justice across Time and Space 85
   Emma Lauren Palmer

PART 2
Challenges to the International Criminal Court through African Interactions

4 The Office of the Prosecutor: Seeking Justice or Serving Global Imperialism? 117
   Shannon Fyfe

5 The Law and Politics of Norm Conflict: Immunity versus Accountability and the Case of Al-Bashir 143
   Catherine Moore
PART 3
International Criminal Law and Politics of Culture, Emotions and Voice

7 Prosecution for the Destruction of Cultural Property: Significance of the al Mahdi Trial 199
   Lara Pratt

8 Emotions in International Criminal Law: Reckoning with the Unknown 230
   Josh Pallas

9 The Politics of Reparations at the International Criminal Court 255
   Miriam Cohen

PART 4
Limits of International Criminal Law: International and National Security

10 Private Military Security Companies: Addressing Accountability – A Suggested Model for Control 279
   Pauline Collins

11 Counterterrorism and National Security: The Domestic/International Law Interface 314
   Vincent-Joël Proulx

Index 391