

Lay visiting to police stations

A report on research commissioned by
The Home Office

by
Mollie Weatheritt and Carole Vieira

A Research, Development and Statistics Directorate Report

Contents

	Page
Foreword	iii
Acknowledgements	iv
Summary	vii
1 Setting the scene	1
What is lay visiting?	1
The research	3
Previous work	3
Other relevant developments	5
Research method	6
A note on visiting statistics	8
The scope of this report	8
2 Lay visiting coverage	11
The extent of schemes: the provinces	11
The extent of schemes: London	12
The size of schemes: the provinces	12
The size of panels: London	13
Visiting expectations: the provinces	14
Visiting expectations: London	14
Visiting frequencies: the provinces	14
Visiting frequencies: London	15
Provincial organisation	15
3 Membership and recruitment	19
Police authority membership	19
Public membership	21
Representativeness	21
Recruiting processes	21
Improving representativeness	22
Tenure	25

	Page
4 Respondents' views on lay visiting effectiveness	27
The role and importance of lay visiting	27
Practical difficulties, points of conflict and issues causing concern	29
Promoting lay visiting effectiveness	32
Reviewing performance	34
5 Revising the guidance	37
Appropriate adults	37
Deaths in custody	40
Other issues	41
Scheme organisation	44
Visiting frequency	44
Recruitment	45
Tenure	45
The conduct of visits	45
Performance review	45
The National Association for Lay Visiting	47
References	47
Publications	49