

Protecting Intimidated Witnesses

NICHOLAS R. FYFE
University of Dundee

Ashgate

Aldershot • Burlington USA • Singapore • Sydney

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	viii
Preface and Acknowledgements	ix
1 'The forgotten soul'? witnesses and the criminal justice system in Britain	1
2 Witness intimidation and protection in the United States	15
3 Witness intimidation in Britain: perspectives on the extent and nature of the problem	30
4 Responding to intimidation: the structure and operation of witness protection	47
5 Inter-agency co-operation and witness protection	67
6 Desperately seeking safety: protected witnesses' experiences of intimidation and relocation	77
7 'Why should we move?' the experiences of intimidated witnesses who stayed in their homes or local area	98
8 Intimidated witnesses at court	113
9 Conclusion: discourses of intimidation and their implications for policy and research	128
Bibliography	139
Index	145