

Body Lore and Laws

Edited by

ANDREW BAINHAM
SHELLEY DAY SCLATER
and
MARTIN RICHARDS

• H A R T •
PUBLISHING

OXFORD – PORTLAND OREGON

2002

Contents

Notes on Contributors	ix
1. Introduction SHELLEY DAY SCLATER	1
2. Bodies as Property: from Slavery to DNA Maps EILEEN RICHARDSON AND BRYAN S. TURNER	29
3. Giving, Selling and Sharing Bodies JONATHAN HERRING	43
4. Discovering and Patenting Human Genes GREGORY RADICK	63
5. Letting Go . . . Parents, Professionals and the Law in Retention of Human Material after Post Mortem MAVIS MACLEAN	79
6. Male Medical Students and the Male Body MARTIN H. JOHNSON	91
7. Domestic Homicide, Gender and the Expert FELICITY KAGANAS	105
8. The Many Appearances of the Body in Feminist Scholarship ANNE BOTTOMLEY	127
9. Male Bodies, Family Practices RICHARD COLLIER	149
10. Sexualities, Sexual Relations and the Law ANDREW BAINHAM	171
11. Hiring Bodies: Male Clients and Prostitution BELINDA BROOKS-GORDON AND LORAINÉ GELSTHORPE	193
12. Villain, Hero or Masked Stranger: Ambivalence in Transactions with Human Gametes RACHEL COOK	211
13. Court-Ordered Caesarean Sections JANE WEAVER	229
14. Dehydrating Bodies: the Bland case, The Winterton Bill and the Importance of Intention in Evaluating End-of-Life Decision-Making JOHN KEOWN	249

15. Religion, Culture and the Body of the Child CAROLINE BRIDGE	265
16. Future Bodies: Some History and Future Prospects for Human Genetic Selection MARTIN RICHARDS	289
17. Perceptions of the Body and Genetic Risk ELIZABETH CHAPMAN	309
18. Science, Medicine and Ethical Change DEREK MORGAN	329
Index	343