

With Malice Aforethought
A Study of the Crime and Punishment for Homicide

LOUIS BLOM-COOPER QC
and
PROFESSOR TERENCE MORRIS

• H A R T •
PUBLISHING

OXFORD – PORTLAND OREGON
2004

Contents

Table of Cases	vii
Table of Statutes	xi
1. Prologue and Apologia	1
2. The Legacy of Sr. Edward Coke, Knight	15
3. Murder Will Out: The Substantive Law Today	33
4. Hunting the Chimæra	59
5. Expert Evidence on Trial	73
6. The Past Revisited: When Memory Lifts the Latch	93
7. On the Dealing Floor of the Lords: Rewind to 1965	109
8. The Starting Points: Where Do They End?	127
9. Corporate Killing	133
10. Motorised Killing	147
11. The Appellate Process	155
12. The Crime and the Penalty: Thinking Outside the Box	161
Annexures
Annex 1. Membership of the Royal Commission on Capital Punishment 1949–53	179
Annex 2. Extracts from the Homicide Act 1957	180
Annex 3. Life Sentences for Murder: The Butler-Gardner correspondence 1961	183
Annex 4. Law Lords voting for the Parker Amendment on 27 July 1965	187
Annex 5. Extracts from the Murder (Abolition of Death Penalty) Act 1965	189
Annex 6. Life Sentences for Murder: A Letter from Jack Straw July 2000	190
Annex 7. Practice Direction (Crime: Mandatory Life Sentences) (No 2) of 29 July 2004	194
Index	201