

Multinationals and the Constitutionalization of the World Power System

Edited by

Jean-Philippe Robé, Antoine Lyon-Caen &
Stéphane Vernac

Contents

List of tables	vii
Contributors	viii
Foreword: constitutionalization and the regulation of transnational firms	xii
JOHN GERARD RUGGIE
Introduction	1
JEAN-PHILIPPE ROBÉ, ANTOINE LYON-CAEN, STÉPHANE VERNAC
PART I
Firms and power
1 Globalization and constitutionalization of the World Power System	11
JEAN-PHILIPPE ROBÉ
2 The corporation and the new aristocracy of finance	53
PADDY IRELAND
3 Corporate power in the global economy: an evolutionary perspective	99
RONEN PALAN
4 Powers and responsibilities in multimember organizations	109
ELSA PESKINE AND STÉPHANE VERNAC
PART II
The concept of constitutionalization
5 Reflections on the constitutionalization of the World Power System	123
GUNTHER TEUBNER
6 From orthodox to societal constitutionalism	135
JEAN DE MUNCK

7	Constitutionalization outside of the State?: a constitutionalist's point of view	157
	VÉRONIQUE CHAMPEIL-DESPLATS
8	The concept of constitutionalization and the multi-corporate enterprise: from body corporate to sovereign enterprise	170
	LARRY CATÁ BACKER
PART III
The concept of constitutionalization applied to the firm
9	Human rights and the constitutionalized corporation	193
	SHELDON LEADER
10	The responsibility of multinational enterprises: a constitutionalization process in action	204
	ANTOINE LYON-CAEN AND TATIANA SACHS
11	Constitutionalization and the status of the director: the test of “Say on pay”	211
	CHARLEY HANNOUN
12	Can States regain fiscal sovereignty over globalized business?	220
	CHRISTIAN CHAVAGNEUX
	Afterword	234
	Index	237