

---

SOCIAL JUSTICE

---

Youth under Control:
Punishment and Reform
in the Neoliberal State

edited by Randolph R. Myers & Judah Schept

Vol. 41, No. 4 (Issue 138)

---

Editors' Introduction: Youth under Control: Punishment and "Reform" in the Neoliberal State	1
Randolph R. Myers & Judah Schept
Being Young in the Age of Globalization: A Look at Recent Literature on Neoliberalism's Effects on Youth	8
Justin Turner
Responsible Submission: The Racialized Consequences of Neoliberal Juvenile Justice Practices	23
Alexandra Cox
"Keep Local Kids Local": Departed Capital, Derelict Land, and (Neo)Liberal Detention	40
Judah Schept
Pyrrhic Victory? Social Justice Organizations as Service Providers in Neoliberal Times	62
Randolph R. Myers & Tim Goddard
Profiting from Punishment: Public Education and the School Security Market	81
Lizbet Simmons
Building, Staffing, and Insulating: An Architecture of Criminological Complicity in the School-to-Prison Pipeline	96
Judah Schept, Tyler Wall & Avi Brisman	