

A 901793

Linga
QW
69

The Nahuas

After the Conquest

*A Social and Cultural History of the Indians of Central Mexico,
Sixteenth Through Eighteenth Centuries*

James Lockhart

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA LIBRARY

Stanford University Press, Stanford, California

(1992)

Contents

Abbreviations	xiv
I Introduction	I
Views of Postconquest Nahua History	2
Uses of Language	5
Some Dimensions and Attributes of the Book	9
Debts and Affinities	12
2 Altepetl	14
Basic Principles of Altepetl Organization	15
Complex Altepetl	20
The Sixteenth-Century Reorganization	28
Town Government and Structure in the Later Colonial Period	47
3 Household	59
Terminology and Constitution of the Household Complex	59
The Vocabulary of Kinship	72
Hints of Household Interaction	85
4 Social Differentiation	94
Commoners	96
Nobles, Lords, and Rulers	102
General Changes in the Postconquest Era	110
The Evolution of Naming Patterns	117
The Persistence of an Upper Group	130
5 Land and Living	141
Land Tenure at Contact	141
Land in Postconquest Times	163
Economic Life and Material Culture	176

6	Religious Life	203
	Religion and the Politics of the Altepetl	206
	The Church People	210
	Cofradías	218
	The Church as Personal Property	229
	Saints	235
	The Question of Beliefs	251
7	Language	261
	Stage 1	263
	Stage 2	284
	Stage 3	304
	“Stage 4”	318
8	Ways of Writing	326
	Preconquest Writing	327
	The Introduction of Spanish-Style Writing	330
	Postconquest Pictographic Writing	331
	Alphabetic Writing	335
	From Pictographic to Alphabetic	345
	Preconquest Modes in Alphabetic Texts	364
	The Evolution of the Spanish Documentary Genres in Nahuatl	372
9	Forms of Expression	374
	Annals	376
	Songs	392
	Theater	401
	Titles	410
	A Glimpse at Art and Architecture	418
10	Conclusion	427
	The Stages	429
	Some Aspects of Organization in Nahua Culture	436
	The Nature of Cultural Interaction	442
	Perspectives	446
	Appendix A. Four Nahuatl Documents	455
	Appendix B. Molina’s Model Testament	468
	Notes	477
	Glossary	607
	Bibliography	613
	Index	631