PLOTTING WOMEN
GENDER AND REPRESENTATION
IN MEXICO

Jean Franco

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS
NEW YORK

(1989)
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments
Introduction

PART I. THE RELIGIOUS NARRATIVE
1. Writers in Spite of Themselves: The Mystical Nuns of Seventeenth-Century Mexico 3
2. Sor Juana Explores Space 23
3. The Power of the Spider Woman: The Deluded Woman and the Inquisition 55

PART II. THE NATION
4. Sense and Sensuality: Notes on the National Period, 1812–1910 79
5. Body and Soul: Women and Postrevolutionary Messianism 102
6. On the Impossibility of Antigone and the Inevitability of La Malinche: Rewriting the National Allegory 129
7. Oedipus Modernized 147
8. Rewriting the Family: Contemporary Feminism’s Revision of the Past 175

Index 229