

A 1999
674

F. G. BAILEY

✓

The Need for Enemies

A Bestiary of Political Forms

CORNELL UNIVERSITY PRESS

ITHACA AND LONDON

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Preface	ix
1. The Babel Sound of Politics	1
Antitheses	1
Animosity and Its Sources	5
A Plurality of Cultures	8
2. Bhubaneswar New Capital	11
The Tented Eatery	11
Optimism and the Third World	12
The New Capital	16
The Framework	22
Past and Future	27
Oriya Nationalism	31
The Coalition	38
Inconsistencies	45
3. The Rhetoric of Paternalism	48
Look to Government	48
Reserved Seats	49
Attitudes to Authority	60
The Royal Style	64
The Officials	80
Subaltern Freedoms	86
The Complexity of Paternalism	87
4. The Rhetoric of Business	91
Sharp Practice	91
Politicians and Public Money	94

Profit and Preaching	106
The Iron-Foundry Man	111
Pervasive Improbability	119
5. The Rhetoric of Struggle		122
Agitation and Leadership	122
The Man from Koraput	123
The Labor Organizer	127
An Oriya Patriot	129
The Man from Singhbhum	130
The Man from Talcher	136
Tales of Adventure	146
6. Pragmatism and the Gandhians		150
Sarvodaya	150
Land Reform and Local Government	151
The Gift of a Village	155
A Modernizing Realist	159
The Perfect Politician	170
Retreat into Good Works	173
7. Disenchantment and Compromise		176
Enantiodromia	176
Distance Lends Enchantment	179
Hard Realities and High Hopes	182
Moderation and Its Causes	198
Pragmatism Defined	204
Four Stages	206
The Argument	212
References		215
Index		219