

A 340843

THE BALKANS SINCE THE SECOND WORLD WAR

R. J. CRAMPTON
✓

An imprint of Pearson Education

London • New York • Toronto • Sydney • Tokyo • Singapore • Hong Kong • Cape Town
New Delhi • Madrid • Paris • Amsterdam • Munich • Milan • Stockholm

CONTENTS

LIST OF TABLES	xi
LIST OF MAPS	xii
PREFACE	xiii
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT	xix
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS	xx
MAPS	xxv
Part I COMMUNIST TAKEOVERS AND CIVIL WAR: THE BALKANS 1944-1949	1
1 INTRODUCTION	3
2 YUGOSLAVIA, 1944-1948	11
The Second World War and foundation of communist power	12
Communist power entrenched: October 1944 to November 1945	14
Communist power legitimized: the November 1945 elections and the January 1946 constitution	19
Unrestrained communist power in Yugoslavia, 1946-8	23
External affairs from the end of the war to the breach with Stalin, 1944-8	26
3 ALBANIA, 1944-1948	38
The foundation and growth of the communist movement	39
The consolidation of communist power, November 1944 to March 1946	41
The beginnings of the revolution from above, March 1946 to June 1948	43
Albania's external alignment, 1944-8	46
4 BULGARIA, 1944-1948	50
Bulgaria during the Second World War	51
Factors in Bulgarian politics, 1944-8	52
From the coup of 9 September 1944 to the postponement of the elections in August 1945	55

	From the postponement of the elections in August 1945 to the Grand National Assembly elections of October 1946	60
	From the elections of October 1946 to the fifth party congress in December 1948	63
5	ROMANIA, 1944–1948	67
	Factors in Romanian politics, 1944–8	70
	From the coup of August 1944 to the installation of the Groza government in March 1945	73
	The crisis of February–March 1945	75
	From the installation of the Groza government to the elections of November 1946	78
	The completion of the communist takeover, November 1946 to March 1948	83
6	GREECE, 1944–1949	87
	Internal conflicts in Greece during the Second World War	89
	Left and right in Greece, 1944–9	91
	The December events, 1944	93
	'Anarchic Banditry': from the Varkiza agreement to the elections of March 1946	94
	The drift to civil war: from the elections to the declaration of the provisional government, March 1946 to December 1947	97
	The Greek civil war, December 1947 to August 1949	100
Part II	THE BALKANS DURING THE COLD WAR, 1949–1989	105
7	INTRODUCTION	107
8	YUGOSLAVIA, 1948–1989	113
	Finding 'Tito's way': Yugoslavia in the 1950s	113
	Yugoslavia isolated	113
	The beginnings of self-management	114
	The reform of party and state institutions, 1950–3	116
	Foreign policy and 'non-alignment'	118
	Domestic affairs in the late 1950s	121
	The search for stability: Yugoslavia 1960–76	122
	The empowerment of the republics, 1960–5	122
	The economic reforms of the mid-1960s	125
	The fall of Ranković and the beginnings of unrest, 1966–8	127
	The Croatian Spring, 1968–71	131
	The purges and institutional reconstruction, 1971–6	134
	Yugoslav foreign policy in the 1960s and 1970s	137
	Yugoslavia in decline, 1980–9	138
	The demise of the old guard and their sustaining myths	139

CONTENTS

	Economic crisis and the discrediting of self-management	142
	Ethnic nationalism and the end of 'brotherhood and unity'	146
9	ALBANIA, 1948–1991	156
	The Soviet period, 1948–61	156
	The Chinese period, 1961–78	160
	The period of isolation, 1978–91	163
10	BULGARIA, 1948–1989	168
	The Stalinist period, 1948–54	168
	The rise of Todor Zhivkov, 1954–65	170
	Zhivkov ascendant, 1965–81	172
	The decline and fall of Todor Zhivkov, 1981–9	175
11	ROMANIA, 1948–1989	182
	Romania under Gheorghiu-Dej, 1948–65	182
	The Stalinist period, 1948–56	182
	Desatellization and destalinization: 1956–65	185
	Ceaușescu's Romania, 1965–89	189
	The honeymoon period, 1965–71	190
	The Ceaușescu dictatorship, 1971–89	192
	Ceaușescu's exploitation of Romanian nationalism	194
	Ceaușescu and the RCP	197
	The economic disasters	199
	The end of the Ceaușescu regime	201
12	GREECE, 1949–1990	205
	The beginnings of political relaxation, 1949–52	205
	Years of stability, 1952–61	207
	The return of political instability, 1961–7	210
	The rule of the colonels, 1967–74	214
	Stable democracy and the road to the EEC, 1974–90	220
	PASOK in power, 1981–90	225
Part III	THE POST-COMMUNIST BALKANS	231
13	INTRODUCTION	233
14	THE YUGOSLAV CRISIS, 1989–1992, AND THE WAR IN BOSNIA, 1992–1995	239
	The collapse of the post-1945 federation, March 1989 to April 1992	239
	Serbia and Kosovo	240
	Croatia	241
	Bosnia and Hercegovina	244
	Macedonia	245

Montenegro	246
Slovenia	247
The decline of the federal institutions	248
The descent into war in Slovenia and Croatia	251
The drift to war in Bosnia	254
The dissolution of the old Yugoslavia	255
The Bosnian and Croatian conflicts, 1992–5	258
15 YUGOSLAVIA AND ITS SUCCESSOR STATES SINCE 1992	270
Kosovo since 1992	270
Serbia since 1992	277
Montenegro since 1992	283
Bosnia and Hercegovina since 1995	285
Croatia since 1992	289
Slovenia since 1992	293
Macedonia since 1992	293
16 ALBANIA SINCE 1991	299
The semi-transition, March 1991 to March 1992	299
The Berisha/Meksi regime, March 1992–June 1996	300
The collapse of 1997	304
Albania since June 1997	305
17 BULGARIA SINCE 1989	308
The UDF Years, December 1989 to December 1994	308
BSP government and economic catastrophe, January 1995–April 1997	314
The second UDF government, Bulgaria since April 1997	319
18 ROMANIA SINCE 1989	324
The National Salvation Front and managed transition, December 1989 to September 1991	324
The neo-communist governments, September 1992 to November 1996	328
Centre-right government, November 1996 to December 2000	331
19 GREECE SINCE 1990	335
New Democracy in power, April 1990 to October 1993	335
PASOK government, Greece since April 1993	338
20 EPILOGUE	343
BIBLIOGRAPHY	347
INDEX	362