The Colonial Divide in Peruvian Narrative

Social Conflict and Transculturation

Misha Kokotovic
Contents

Acknowledgements vi

Introduction Social Conflict and Narrative Form 1

1 Modernity from the Margins: Narrative Form and Indigenous Agency in Broad and Alien is the World and Yawar Fiesta 32

2 From Development Theory to Pachakutiy: José María Arguedas's Anthropology and Fiction in the 1950s 65

3 Between Feudalism and Imperialism: Indigenous Culture and Class Struggle in All the Worlds and Drums for Rancas 96

4 The Criollo City Transformed: Andean Migration in Urban Narrative 124

5 Mario Vargas Llosa Writes Of(f) the Native: Cultural Heterogeneity and Neoliberal Modernity 163

Epilogue More than Skin Deep? Social Change in Contemporary Peru 195

Notes 202
Bibliography 257