Force of Habit
Exploring Everyday Culture

Edited by
Jonas Frykman and Orvar Löfgren
Contents

Jonas Frykman and Orvar Löfgren
The study of Swedish customs and habits ...................................................... 5

Lissie Åström
Habit formation in everyday life
Gender and class in family and work .......................................................... 21

Jonas Frykman
Between rebellion and champagne
Festive spirit through three generations ....................................................... 31

Beatriz Lindqvist
It's all about love
Conversations about marriage and career ..................................................... 47

Susanne Lundin
Longing for social and biological identity
Parenthood by means of biotechnology .......................................................... 59

Finnur Magnússon
Learning to be a patient
Everyday routines and rituals in a nursing home .......................................... 69

Ingrid Nordström
Manners and meals
On cultural imprinting, the power of rules, and changing habits ...................... 77

Gunnar Alsmark
When in Sweden …
Immigrant encounters with Swedish culture ................................................ 87
Orvar Löfgren
The great Christmas quarrel
On the moral economy of family rituals ........................................ 103

Jochum Stattin
On the serious side of April fooling
When it is permitted to joke about important matters ....................... 119

Inger Lövkrona
Gender and sexuality in pre-industrial society
Swedish erotic riddles ................................................................ 129

Renée Valeri
Coffee in Sweden
A social lubricant ......................................................................... 139

Anders Salomonsson
The Swedish crayfish party
Rounding off the summer with a national rite ................................. 151

About the authors ......................................................................... 161

References .................................................................................. 165