The Processes of History Teaching

An international symposium held at Malmö University, Sweden, March 5th-7th 2009
CONTENTS

Foreword
Klas-Göran Karlsson & Bengt Schillerqvist 7

Introduction
Kenneth Nordgren, Per Eliasson, Carina Rönqvist 9

PART I SUBJECT OF HISTORY PERSPECTIVE

Forming Historical Consciousness – Towards a Humanistic History Didactics
Jörn Rüsen 15

Historical consciousness – The fundament of historical thinking and history teaching
Klas-Göran Karlsson 34

In search of historical consciousness – A class room research project of history education
Per Eliasson 42

Historical identity as an ethical project
Sirkka Ahonen 63

PART II TEACHER PERSPECTIVE

Consequences of Diversity for History Education
Arja Virta 82

Veteran Teachers’ Strategies in History Teaching
Thomas Nygren 90

PART III PUPIL PERSPECTIVE

How pupils’ conception of the relationship between the past and present impact on the ways they make sense of the history taught
Frances Blow 106

To know that or to know how? An attempt to integrate content and skills in history teaching
KG Hammarlund 132

Historical consciousness and September 11 2001
Kenneth Nordgren 141