

BEITRÄGE
ZUR REGIONALEN GEOGRAPHIE

Herausgeber
Sebastian Lentz
Ute Wardenga

Agnes Borsig, Joachim Burdack and Elke Knappe (eds.)

Small towns in Eastern Europe: local networks and urban development

Inhalt

J. Burdack: Small town research and small town developments: an introduction

1. Main topics in German small town research . . . . .	7
2. Small towns in Eastern Europe after transformation . . . . .	8
3. Endogenous factors and local resources . . . . .	8
3.1 Social capital . . . . .	9
3.2 Urban governance . . . . .	10
4. Methodology and sample selection . . . . .	10
References . . . . .	11

A. Borsig: Social capital – The missing link in small town research

1. Main conceptual strands . . . . .	15
1.1 Bourdieu's notion of social capital . . . . .	16
1.2 Coleman's approach to social capital . . . . .	17
1.3 Putnam's idea of social capital . . . . .	17
1.4 Some critical remarks to the concept of social capital . . . . .	18
2. Civic engagement – The source of social capital . . . . .	19
3. Social capital, civic engagement and the development of small towns . . . . .	21
4. Social capital in the post-communist context . . . . .	22
References . . . . .	23

J. Burdack: Small town development and social capital in Eastern Germany: the cases Colditz and Leisnig

1. Small towns in the German settlement system . . . . .	26
2. Small towns in Saxony: functions and recent development trends . . . . .	27
3. Introduction to the case study areas: Colditz and Leisnig . . . . .	29
3.1 Colditz . . . . .	30
3.2 Leisnig . . . . .	31
4. Empirical results . . . . .	33
4.1 Description of the sample . . . . .	33
4.2 Image and satisfaction with the city . . . . .	34
4.3 Problems and deficits . . . . .	36
4.4 Social Capital . . . . .	37
4.5 Local governance and civil engagement . . . . .	39
4.6 Perspectives of development . . . . .	42
5. Summary and conclusions . . . . .	43
References . . . . .	45

M. Krūzmētra, A. Borsig and E. Knappe: Small towns in Latvia: their role in the functioning of the society and prospects for their development. The examples Valka and Kuldīga.

1. Introduction . . . . .	46
2. Small towns in Latvia: functions and recent development trends . . . . .	46
3. Introduction to the case study areas: Kuldīga and Valka . . . . .	48
3.1 Kuldīga . . . . .	49
3.2 Valka . . . . .	50
4. Empirical results . . . . .	52
4.1 Description of the sample . . . . .	52
4.2 Image and satisfaction with the city . . . . .	52

4.3	Problems and deficits	54
4.4	Civic engagement and social capital	55
4.5	Local governance and political participation	56
4.6	Perspectives of development	56
5.	Summary and conclusions.	57
	References	58

V. Juščius and S. Kraniauskienė: Development of small towns in Lithuania – the cases of Rietavas and Šilalė

1.	Towns in the Republic of Lithuania: history and present.	59
2.	The case studies: Rietavas and Šilalė	60
2.1	Rietavas.	60
2.2	Šilalė.	62
3.	Empirical results	64
3.1	Description of the sample	64
3.2	Image and satisfaction with the town	64
3.3	Social capital.	68
4.	Conclusions	70
	References	71

U. Kaczmarek and B. Konecka-Szydłowska: Small town development and social capital in Poland: the cases Łobez and Słupca

1.	Small towns in the Polish settlement system	72
2.	Small towns in the Wielkopolska and West Pomeranian Voivodeship	73
2.1	Small towns in Wielkopolska: functions and recent development trends	73
2.2	Small towns in the settlement grid of the West Pomeranian Voivodeship	74
3.	The case studies Słupca and Łobez	76
3.1	Socio-economic characteristics of Słupca.	76
3.2	Socio-economic characteristics of Łobez	78
4.	Empirical results	80
4.1	Description of the sample	80
4.2	Image and satisfaction with the town	81
4.3	Problems and deficits	82
4.4	Social capital.	84
4.5	Local governance and civil engagement.	85
4.6	Development prospect	86
5.	Summary and conclusions.	87
	References	89

A. Borsig, J. Burdack and E. Knappe: Summary and conclusions

1.	Small towns as localities	90
2.	Civic engagement and social capital: resources for local development	91
3.	Local Governance in small towns: ambivalent findings	94
4.	A future for small towns?	95
	References	97

	Summary	98
	Zusammenfassung	99
	Resumé	101
	Резюме	103