

Connect and Divide

The Practice Turn in Media Studies

Edited by

Erhard Schüttpelz, Ulrike Bergermann,

Monika Dommann, Jeremy Stolow, Nadine Taha

DIAPHANES

Table of Contents

Connect and Divide: The Practice Turn in Media Studies. . . . .	9
---	---

SECTION I:

Media History from a Praxeological Perspective

Monika Dommann

Introduction: Unobservable Practices? Methodologies of Media History. . . . .	13
---	----

Sebastian Gießmann

How to Coordinate Digital Accounting? Infrastructuring Payment and Credit with the Eurocard . . . . .	17
--	----

Fabian Grütter

On Practices and Other Paper Tigers. Surfaces, Office Work, and Media Studies 1920–2000 . . . . .	39
--	----

Philipp Goll

“I like the Beach Boys!” Literary Covering in Uwe Nettelbeck’s Die Republik . . . . .	55
--	----

Anna Echterhölter

(Dis-)manufacturing Bonds. Rural Measuring Practices as Media of Exchange . . . . .	69
---	----

From Documentary Practices to WikiLeaks

Interview with Lisa Gitelman, by Monika Dommann . . . . .	83
--	----

SECTION II:

Religion Is as Religion Does: The Practice Turn in Religion and Media Studies

Jeremy Stolow

Introduction: Religion Is as Religion Does . . . . .	91
--	----

Anderson Blanton
The Mass Miracle: Healing Touch and Other “Special Effects” of Radio Prayer . . . 99

Anthony Enns
Auditory Revelations: Spiritualism, Technology, and Sound . . . . . 113

Religion, Media, and the Practice Turn
Interview with John Durham Peters, by Jeremy Stolow . . . . . 131

SECTION III:
Connecting and Dividing Media Theories: Gender, Post-Colonial, and Other Agencies

Ulrike Bergermann
Introduction: Connecting and Dividing Media Theories: Gender, Post-Colonial, and Other Agencies . . . . . 145

Peter Rehberg
Grunts and Monsters: Gay Men’s Online Media Practices . . . . . 155

Andrea Seier
New Materialism Meets Practice Turn. A Reading of Transgender Knowledge . . . . 173

Sourayan Mookerjea and Anne Winkler
Decolonizing Media Studies: Settler-Colonialism and Subaltern
Counter-Environments. . . . . 189

Karin Harrasser
Sweet Trap, Dangerous Method. Musical Practice in the Jesuit Reductions of Chiquitos and Moxos in the Eighteenth Century. . . . . 209

Practice is a Screen. Minor Assemblages of Gender, Race, and Global Media
Interview with Rey Chow, by Ulrike Bergermann . . . . . 227

SECTION IV:
The Current Relationship (After a Longer Non-Relationship) of Media Theory
and Practice Theory

Erhard Schüttpelz
Introduction: Media Theory Before and After the Practice Turn. . . . . 237

Dawid Kasprowicz
New Labor, Old Questions: Practices of Collaboration with Robots .....	247
Martin Stern and Daniel Rode
A Question of Style! Body-Camera Usages in Snowboarding: A Praxeological Approach to the Study of Media .....	263
Carsten Ochs
Privacies in Practice .....	277
Katja Rothe
A Media Ecology of the Soul: Play in Child Psychiatry .....	295
Practice in the History of Computing
Interview with Thomas Haigh, by Erhard Schüttpelz .....	307
List of Figures .....	317