The Contribution of the Postal and Delivery Sector
Between E-Commerce and E-Substitution
Contents

Academic Hubs and the Intellectual Infrastructure of Economic Regulation ........................................... 1
William E. Kovacic

On Some Historical Contributions of the Postal and Delivery Conference ........................................ 13
Pier Luigi Parcu and Vincenzo Visco Comandini

Michael Crew's (and Paul Kleindorfer's) Scholarly Contributions to the CRRI Postal Conferences, 1990–2012 .................................................. 31
Timothy J. Brennan

DHL Express (Austria): Towards Legal Certainty on Article 9 and Applicable Obligations for Postal Service Providers .................................................. 47
Alessandra Fratini

Quantity Rebate Scheme: Applicability of “per sender” Reasoning for Corporate Groups ......................... 61
Til Rozman

Regulation. Quo Vadis? ......................................................... 75
John Hearn

PAEA’s Take on Regulatory Economics ................................. 89
Edward S. Pearsall

Are European Cross-Border Parcel Delivery Services Affordable? .................................................. 103
Claire Borsenberger

The 2016 European Commission Proposal for a Regulation on Cross-Border Parcels: An Assessment of the Objectives, Background, Issues and Potential Impacts .................................................. 115
Philip Groves
E-commerce of Goods: Testing the European Single Market
Paula Gori and Virginia Silvestri

How E-commerce Is Shaping a New Consumer-Focused Regulatory Framework for the European Parcel Delivery Market
Virginie Alloo

Life After Volume Declines: Is There a Viable Future for the Postal Sector?
Adam C. Houck

Analysis of the Effect of Management Quality Variables in Delivery Cost Functions
Catherine Cazals, Thierry Magnac, and Soterios Soteri

Postal Users’ Needs Regarding Accessibility to the Postal Network
João Confraria, Filipa Silva, Frederico Pereira, and Agostinho Franco

Kill Your Darlings: When Does Sacrificing Next-Day Delivery Help USO Sustainability?
Henrik Ballebye Okholm, Mindaugas Cerpickis, Anna Möller Boivie, and Bruno Basalisco

The Pricing of Cross-Border Parcel Delivery Services
Claire Borsenberger, Lisa Chever, Helmuth Cremer, Denis Joram, and Jean-Marie Lozachmeur

Pricing and Efficiency Decisions for Letter and Parcel Markets When Industrial Relations Matter
Philippe De Donder, Frank Rodriguez, and Soterios Soteri

The Impact of Competition on Consumer Prices for Cross-Border Parcels
Sonja Thiele and Alex Kalevi Dieke

Adjusting Rates for Quality of Service: Have Market-Dominant Mail Rates Risen Faster than the CPI-U?
Edward S. Pearsall

Simulating Cost Effective Parcel Delivery Methods for Postal Services
Michael D. Bradley, Jeff Colvin, and Mary K. Perkins

Price Elasticities and Factors Driving International Contract Export Mail Sent from the UK to Western European Countries
Frederique Feve, Thierry Magnac, Soterios Soteri, and Leticia Veruete-McKay

An Exploration of the Impact of Parcel Volume Growth on the Service Performance of Letter Mail
Margaret Cigno and Soiliou D. Namoro