THE ROUTLEDGE COMPANION TO CRITICAL MARKETING

Edited by Mark Tadajewski, Matthew Higgins, Janice Denegri-Knott, and Rohit Varman
CONTENTS

List of illustrations viii
Notes on contributors ix

1 Introducing and advancing Critical Marketing Studies
  Mark Tadajewski, Matthew Higgins, Janice Denegri-Knott, and Rohit Varman 1

PART I
Exploring the terrain of Critical Marketing Studies 35

2 Postmodernism and critical marketing
  Nikhil Dholakia and A. Fuat Firat 37

3 Postcolonialism, subalternity, and critical marketing
  Rohit Varman 49

4 Feminist perspectives in marketing: past, present, and future
  Pauline Maclaran and Olga Kravets 64

5 Critical social marketing: reflections, introspections, and future directions
  Ross Gordon 83

6 Critical macromarketing, sustainable marketing, and globalization
  William E. Kilbourne 98
Contents

7 Critical perspectives on place marketing
Massimo Giovanardi, Mihalis Kavaratzis, and Maria Lichrou 115

8 Critical arts marketing
Gretchen Larsen and Finola Kerrigan 135

PART II
Critical Marketing: marketing practices in focus 153

9 Critical studies of marketing work
Peter Svensson 155

10 The cultural turn in lifestyle research: overview and reflections
Gokcen Coskuner-Balli 172

11 Advertising practice and critical marketing
Chris Hackley 185

12 Critical reflections on the marketing concept and consumer sovereignty
Mark Tadajewski 196

13 Service-Dominant logic: the evolution of a universal marketing rhetoric
Chris Miles 225

14 Metaphor and Relationship Marketing discourse
Lisa O’Malley 243

15 Critical perspectives on ethical consumption
Michal Carrington and Andreas Chatzidakis 256

16 Religious critiques of the market
Aliakbar Jafari 271

PART III
Rethinking consumers and markets: critiques of markets 285

17 Re-mapping power for critical marketing and consumer research
Janice Denegri-Knott 287

18 Ideology and Critical Marketing Studies
Giana M. Eckhardt, Rohit Varman, and Nikhilesh Dholakia 306
Contents

19 Non-Western cultures and Critical Marketing
Özlem Sandika Türkdoğan

20 Choice and choicelessness in consumer practice
Ruby Roy Dholakia, A. Fuat Firat, and Nikhilesh Dholakia

21 Managing racial stigma in consumer culture
David Crockett

22 Consumer vulnerability: critical insights from stories, action research and visual culture
Susan Dunnett, Kathy Hamilton, and Maria Piacentini

23 The embodied consumer
Maurice Patterson

PART IV
Critical marketing: marketing practices in focus

24 Critical perspectives on brand management
Adam Arvidsson and Alex Giordano

25 Gender, marketing, and emotions: a critical, feminist exploration of the ideological helix that defines our working worlds
Lorna Stevens

26 Biopolitical marketing and the commodification of social contexts
Detlev Zwick and Alan Bradshaw

27 Exploitation and emancipation
Bernard Cova and Bernard Paranque

28 Political economy approaches to transnational commodity markets: an application to the case of the global palm oil market
Martin Fougère

29 Social media, big data, and critical marketing
Christian Fuchs

30 Marketing and the production of consumers’ objective violence
Eduardo André Teixeira Ayrosa and Renata Couto de Azevedo de Oliveira

Index