Alisha Ali / John S. Hull (eds.)

Multi-Stakeholder Perspectives of the Tourism Experience

Responses from the International Competence Network of Tourism Research and Education (ICNT)
Contents

Alisha Ali and John Hull
Editorial Introduction ................................................................. 7

Maria Isabel Ramos Abascal
Brewing Tourism in Baja ................................................................. 11

Sarbjit S. Gill, F. Anne Terwiel, John S. Hull
Developing Sense of Place as a Staff Retention Strategy:
The Case of Sun Peaks Resort ............................................................ 23

Eva Holmberg, Kaija Lindroth, Mona Vaahtera
Finnish Travellers' Views on the Refugee Crisis in Greece ......................... 47

Eva Holmberg, Jarmo Ritalahti
The Constructive Approach in Tourism Research ................................... 69

Michael Lück, Brooke Porter
Profiling Pelagic Birdwatchers: The Case of Albatross Encounter,
Kaikoura, New Zealand ......................................................................... 87

Ismael Castillo Ortiz
Historical Perspective on Factors related to Tourists' Behavioural Intentions in Hotel Restaurants ............................................................. 107

Jarmo Ritalahti
From High Street to Digital Environments: Changing
Landscapes in Travel Intermediation ...................................................... 135

Lars Rettig, Eric Horster
Student Satisfaction with the Student Counselling Service and
Its Influence on Course Enrollments ...................................................... 149

Tomas Pernecky, Jill Poulston
Cultural Creatives' Accommodation Preferences and the Honeybee Leadership Philosophy ................................................................ 167