CHAPTER 2 • Revenue Politics

Raising Taxes
- Minicase: Supermajorities to Raise Taxes
- Minicase: Louisiana—Getting Around the No-Tax-Increase Pledge
- Minicase: A Tax Increase in Philadelphia

The Politics of Protection
Different Revenue Sources Hit Different Groups Differently
- Income and Wage Taxes
- Sales Taxes
- Tariffs
- Property Taxes
- User Fees

Tax Breaks
- Minicase: Wisconsin and Unexamined Tax Breaks
- Minicase: Illinois and the Role of the Press
- Minicase: Tax Breaks for Hedge Fund Managers
- Minicase: California and Enterprise Zone Tax Breaks
- Minicase: North Carolina and Business Tax Breaks
- Minicase: Michigan—Terminating Its Film Subsidy
- Minicase: New Mexico and Tax Expenditure Reporting

Tax Reform
- Mismatch of Economy to Tax System
- Tax Unfairness
- Tax Complexity
- Taxes and the Economy
- Dynamics of Tax Reform
- Minicase: Georgia Tax Reform Left Hanging
- Minicase: Michigan Tax Reform or Class Warfare?
- Minicase: The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act: Is It a Tax Reform?

Summary and Conclusions

Useful Websites
CHAPTER 3 • The Politics of Process

Budget Process and the Characteristics of Public Budgeting
- Adaptation
- Competition
- Separation of Payer and Decider
  - Minicase: Harrisburg—Whose Priorities Dominate?
- Constraints

Designing Process to Achieve Policy and Political Goals
- Budget Process and Policy

Macro- and Micropolitics
- Budget Process and Power
  - Minicase: Republican Macrolevel Reform Proposals
  - Minicase: Micropolitics—Bending the Rules to Win Individual Decisions
  - Minicase: How the Governor's Veto Is Used

Variation Between and Among Federal, State, and Local Governments
- Variation Between Levels of Government
- Executive and Legislative Budget Powers
  - Minicase: Maine—The Governor Versus the Legislature
  - Minicase: Limits of Governor's Vetoes in New Mexico
  - Dispersion of Power
  - Minicase: San Diego—Fiscal Problems, Strong Mayor, and Veto Powers
    - Entitlements, Grants, Loans, and Operating and Capital Budgets
- Variation in Budget Processes Among States and Among Cities
- Summary and Conclusions
- Useful Websites

CHAPTER 4 • The Dynamics of Changing Budget Processes

Overview
- Minicase: New York State—Powerful Governor, Weak Legislature, Informal Budgeting
- Minicase: The Governor Versus the Courts

Federal Budget Process Changes
- The Creation of the Executive Budget at the National Level
- Entitlements and Congressional Fragmentation, From the 1930s to the 1970s
- Congress Takes Back Some Budget Control, 1974
CHAPTER 6 • The Politics of Balancing the Budget

Defining the Balance Constraint

Multiple Actors, Ideologies, and Deficits

The Environment, Unpredictability, and Deficits

Increasing Stress Between Payer and Decider

The Politics of Deficits: The Federal Level

The Politics of Deficits: States

Passing the Buck to Local Governments

State Unfunded Mandates