Advances in Advertising Research X
Multiple Touchpoints in Brand Communication
Table of Contents

Part I. Digital Communications and Multiple Touchpoints

Zeph M. C. van Berlo, Eva A. van Reijmersdal, Guda van Noort
Branded App Engagement: Comparing Apps from Goods and Service Brands ................................................................. 3

Sonja Bidmon
Patient Satisfaction with the Primary Care Physician and Usage of Physician Rating Websites: How Do They Relate to Each Other? .............. 15

Jana Tabellion, Franz-Rudolf Esch
Influencer Marketing and its Impact on the Advertised Brand ...................... 29

Xijia Hu, Stephan Winter
The Effects of Abstract vs. Concrete Mindsets on the Persuasiveness of Online Reviews: A Construal Level Perspective ............................................. 43

Joanna Strycharz, Guda van Noort, Edith Smit, Natali Helberger
Consumer View on Personalized Advertising: Overview of Self-Reported Benefits and Concerns................................................................. 53

Fabrice Desmarais, Alexandra Vignolles
Customer Engagement through the Vocal Touchpoint: An Exploratory Cross-Cultural Study................................................................. 67
Part II. Creativity in Advertising

Tobias Langner, Tobias Klinke, Nader Fadl, Malte Christ
The Impact of Capitalization on Advertising Headline Readability .............. 81

Antonia Kraus, Heribert Gierl
Are Incomplete Advertisements More Effective? A Test of the Generation Effect and the Ambiguity Effect .......................................................... 93

Julie Bilby, Stefan Petersen, Lukas Parker
The Role of Creativity in a Digital World: Advertising Practitioner Views from China ......................................................................................... 107

Daniel Belanche, Carlos Flavián, Alfredo Pérez-Rueda
Stimulating Users in Online Pre-Roll Ads, How to Use Arousal for Different Advertising Audiences ................................................................. 119

Loes Janssen, Marieke L. Fransen
Written Honesty is the Best Policy: Effects of Disclosure Explicitness and Disclosure Modality on Brand Responses via Critical Attitudes ............ 133

Kei Mineo
The Effects of a Third-Party Certification Seal in Advertising: The Role of Need for Cognition ........................................................................ 147
Table of Contents

Part III. Consumer Responses to Multiple Communications

Tanja Steinhart, Heribert Gierl
Are Your Products Arranged in a Good Shape? The Effect of Entitativity on the Attitudes toward Family Brands................................................. 163

Andreu van Hooft, Frank van Meurs, Ilse van Mierlo
Bilingual Consumers’ Response to the Use of Catalan and Spanish in Advertising in Catalonia ................................................................. 177

Clara Muela-Molina, Salvador Perelló-Oliver, M.ª Victoria Campos-Zabala, Alfonso de la Quintana-García
Deception by Endorsers. An Empirical Analysis of Deceptive Claims in Advertising................................................................................ 191

Augusta Ifeanyichukwu Evans, Giuseppe Emanuele Adamo, Barbara Czarnecka
European Destination Managers’ Ambivalence Towards the Use of Shocking Advertising............................................................................ 205

Vladislav Bína, Daria Gunina, Tomáš Kincl
TV Advertising Reach: Model for Effective Scheduling............................ 215

Kristina Auxtova
Behind the Rhetorical Scenes of Offence: A Rhetorical Analysis of Complained-About Offensive Advertising .............................................. 229