TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword ................................................................. vii

Introduction ........................................................................ 1
Higher Education in the Monoculture of Consumption
Almantas Samalavičius

Part I. Global Shifts in Higher Education and their Implications

Chapter One ................................................................. 14
Rethinking the University: A Conversation with Ronald Barnett

Chapter Two ................................................................. 25
Higher Education and Its Discontents: A Conversation with Jon Nixon

Chapter Three ............................................................ 36
Higher Education and the Trap of Bureaucracy: A Conversation with Christian Moraru

Chapter Four ............................................................... 43
Political Philosophy of Austerity: A Conversation with Thomas Docherty

Chapter Five ............................................................... 50
Technology, Consumership and Higher Education: A Conversation with Arthur W. Hunt III

Chapter Six ................................................................. 64
Ideology, Wisdom and Moral Education: A Conversation with Norman Lillegard

Part II. Neoliberalism, Economism and Global University Reforms

Chapter Seven ............................................................ 76
Higher Education and Neoliberal Temptation: A Conversation with Henry A. Giroux
Table of Contents

Chapter Eight .............................................................................................................. 82
The Rise of Neoliberal Universities: A Conversation with Raewyn Connell

Chapter Nine ............................................................................................................. 89
Neoliberalism and Higher Education in Central Europe: A Conversation with Ana Hofman.

Chapter Ten ............................................................................................................. 95
Neoliberalism’s New Face—Polish Higher Education: A Conversation with Marek Wilczynski

Chapter Eleven ....................................................................................................... 102
Higher Education and Post-Socialist Neoliberalism: A Conversation with Margarita Karamihova

Chapter Twelve ..................................................................................................... 106
Economism and Structural Changes in French Higher Education: A Conversation with Jan Borm

Chapter Thirteen .................................................................................................. 116
The Paradoxes of “World-Class” Universities: A Conversation with Sajay Samuel

Part III. Toward New Economic Paradigms

Chapter Fourteen ................................................................................................. 126
Beyond Contemporary Economic Thinking: A Conversation with John B. Cobb

Chapter Fifteen ..................................................................................................... 138
Corporate Capitalism and Mythology of Modernity: A Conversation with Wade Rowland

Chapter Sixteen ..................................................................................................... 143
The Pursuit of Happiness: A Conversation with Mark Anielski

Chapter Seventeen ............................................................................................... 152
Against Growth: A Conversation with Joshua Farley

Notes on Contributors .......................................................................................... 169