

After the Fall

Energy Security, Sustainable Development, and the Environment

Edited by
Bruce Bagley, Suzanne Loftus,
Hanna S. Kassab, and Dina Moulioukova

LEXINGTON BOOKS

Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Introduction	1
1 Caribbean Energy Outlook Anthony T. Bryan	5
2 Transitioning to Clean Energy in Central America Christian Gómez, Jr.	27
3 Will Argentina Go the Way of Venezuela? Gonzalo Molina	41
4 Commodity Crisis in Colombia: A Reform Catalyst for an Exhausted Development Model Andrés Cala Campo	59
5 After the Fall of Petrobras: Too Big to Fail? Energy Policy in Brazil Afterward Marcelo Rocha e Silva Zorovich	77
6 Sustainable Agriculture Landscapes for Production of Biofuels in Brazil José Maria Cardoso da Silva and Luis Cláudio Fernandes Barbosa	95
7 The European Union and Climate Change: The Post-COP21 World Maxime H. A. Larivé	111
8 China's Activities in the Petroleum, Renewable Energy, and Transmission Sectors of Latin America and the Caribbean R. Evan Ellis	139

9	Chinese Oil Investments in Peru and Ecuador: Social Responsibility, Host Government Regulations, and Host Civil Society	159
	Wenyuan Wu
10	The Fall of Energy Prices and Aggressive Foreign Policy: The Case of Russia	179
	Dina Moulioukova
11	Oil Political Stability, and the Middle East: Fiscal Crisis, Geopolitical Standoffs, and Transitioning to a New World Order	201
	Herbert Reginbogin
12	Twilight Kingdom? Saudi Arabia and the American Challenge between Shale and Shi'ism	231
	Bradford R. McGuinn
13	Opposing Extractivism: Social Movements for Rights and Sustainability	261
	Laura Carlsen
14	Systemic Transformations and Energy: The BRICS' New Development Bank and the Declining Relevance of OPEC	277
	Hanna Samir Kassab
	Conclusion	295
	About the Contributors	301