Sustainability Governance and Hierarchy

Edited by Philippe Hamman
Contents

Lists of figures, maps, tables, boxes vii
List of contributors ix
Preface and acknowledgements xiii

PART I
Conceptual issues and framework 1

1 Rethinking hierarchy in sustainability governance: a literature review 3
PHILIPPE HAMMAN

2 Toward systematic understandings of sustainability governance: a conceptual meta-framework 60
BASIL BORNEMANN, PHILIPP LANGE AND PAUL BURGER

PART II
New frames for thinking and implementing economic policy, law and public administration 79

3 Why does promoting energy efficiency not contradict the paradigm of sustainability? A normative approach using the Pareto criterion 83
BIANCA BLUM, BERNHARD NEUMÄRKER AND ANJA SIMONEIT

4 Urban planning and adaptation to climate change: a legal perspective 101
VINCENT TISSOT AND MARIE-PIERRE CAMPROUX-DUFRÈNE
5 Sustainabilizing the government machinery? Exploring sustainability-oriented transformations of internal governance in Swiss cantons
BASIL BORNEANN AND MARIUS CHRISTEN

PART III
Governance of energy transition and territorial metabolism: reframing sustainability politics/policies

6 (Self-)governing urban energy transitions: from revolution to evolution?
JENS KOEHRSEN

7 Governance for sufficiency: a new approach to a contested field
PAUL BURGER, ANNIKA SOHRE AND ILJANA SCHUBERT

8 Governance of urban metabolism: when a system creates its own limitations
MAURICE WINTZ

PART IV
Rethinking the "sustainable city" project as a procedural issue: between institutional regulations and social linkages

9 Urban sustainability governance and social transactions in France: a social sciences perspective
PHILIPPE HAMMAN

10 For a new conception of the metropolis: the "Danube" eco-district in Strasbourg as a new model for urban governance and an experiment in local democracy
PATRICIA ZANDER

11 Governance for sustainability in European cities
CRISTINA GARZILLO AND MATTHEW BACH

Index