Communists constructing capitalism

State, market, and the Party in China's financial reform

Julian Gruin

Manchester University Press
Contents

List of figures viii
List of tables ix
Series editors' foreword x
Preface xii
List of abbreviations xix

1 State, market, and the Party in Chinese capitalism 1
2 Ancient markets, modern capitalism: China and the problem of Eurocentrism 30
3 CCP authority and the two faces of uncertainty 52
4 From Tiananmen onwards: constructing capitalism
   in the 1990s 80
5 Entering the world: consolidating capitalism in the 2000s 129
6 Post-crisis challenges: confronting capitalism in the 2010s 182
7 Chinese finance and the future of authoritarian capitalism 217

References 232
Index 265