Gender and Corporate Governance

Francisco Bravo-Urquiza and Nuria Reguera-Alvarado
Contents

List of illustrations vii
Preface ix

1 Women and governance 1

2 Women in business 7
  2.1 History of women in companies and the glass ceiling 7
  2.2 Gender entrepreneurship 9

3 Gender board diversity: current situation 15
  3.1 Gender diversity in the board of directors: regulation 15
  3.2 Gender diversity in the board of directors: the current situation 24

4 Women's contribution to boards: a theoretical approach 35
  4.1 Agency theory 38
  4.2 Stakeholder theory 39
  4.3 Psychological theories 40
  4.4 Resource dependence theory 41
  4.5 Institutional theory 42
  4.6 Stewardship theory 42
  4.7 Signalling theory 43
  4.8 Tokenism perspective 43
  4.9 Group phenomena perspective 44
vi Contents

5 Measures for gender board diversity 47

6 The effect of board gender composition: empirical evidence 55
   6.1 Board gender diversity and firm financial performance 58
   6.2 Board gender diversity and corporate social responsibility 61
   6.3 Board gender diversity and other business strategies 63
   6.4 A contextual approach: potential moderators of the influence of female directors 65
   6.5 The effect of women directors' particular characteristics 66

7 Concluding remarks 69

Bibliography 73
Index 87