A SAMARITAN STATE
REVISITED

Historical Perspectives on Canadian Foreign Aid

Edited by GREG DONAGHY and DAVID WEBSTER
CONTENTS

List of Abbreviations ix
Acknowledgements xi
Introduction 1

David Webster and Greg Donaghy

PART 1: Entering the Aid World, 1950–1960 21
1 Encounter and Apprenticeship: The Colombo Plan and Canadian Aid in India, 1950–1960 27

Jill Campbell-Miller

2 "Reasonably Well-Organized": A History of Early Aid
Administration 53

Greg Donaghy

3 Developing the World in Canada’s Image: Hugh Keenleyside and Technical Assistance 73

David Webster

4  "A One Way Street": The Limits of Canada’s Aid Relations with Pakistan, 1958–1972
   Ryan Touhey

5  One Size Fits All? Canadian Development Assistance to Colombia, 1953–1972
   Stefano Tijerina

6  Samaritanos canadienses?: Canadian Development Assistance in Latin America during the Trudeau Years
   Asa McKercher

   Kevin Brushett

PART 3: Imagery and Symbolism 187

   Ted Cogan

9  Pictures in Development: The Canadian International Development Agency’s Photo Library
   Sonya de Laat

10  “Tears Are Not Enough”: Canadian Political and Social Mobilization for Famine Relief in Ethiopia, 1984–1988
   Nassisse Solomon
PART 4: The Political Economy of Canadian Aid, 1980–2018

11 Canadian Development Assistance to Latin America
   Laura Macdonald

12 CIDA and Aid to Africa in the 1990s: A Crisis of Confidence
   David Black

13 A Samaritan State?, Canadian Foreign Aid, and the Challenges of Policy Coherence for Development
   Stephen Brown

Conclusion

14 Concluding Reflections: Beyond Aid
   Dominique Marshall

Bibliography

Contributors

Index