Mohsin Ali · Najeeb Zada

The Islamic Finance Trading Framework

Legitimizing Profit Making

palgrave turquoise turquoise
CONTENTS

1 Introduction 1

2 Trading Under Islamic Commercial Law 7

   Introduction 8

   Contract Under Islamic Law: Definition and Types 9

   Contracts Under Islamic Commercial Law: Pillars and Ethics 11

   Elements Prohibited in Islamic Commercial Contracts 13

   Consumer Protection Under Islamic Commercial Law:

   The Concept of Khiyar (Option) 15

      Option of Session 16

      Option of Defect 16

      Option of Stipulation 17

      Option of Inspection 17

      Option of Price Payment 17

      Fraud Option 17

   Prohibited Trading Practices and Transactions Under

   Islamic Law 18

      Sale by Throwing Stone 18

      Sale by Touching 18

      Sale by Throwing 18

      Sale by Description 19

      Sale of Unspecified for Specified 19

      Sale of Fruits Before Ripening Appears 19
3 Application of Islamic Financial Contracts

Introduction
Murabahah
Salam
Istisna
Ijarah
Wakalah
Musharakah
Mudharabah
Bay Al-Sarf
References

4 Profit-Making in Islam: Justification and Importance

Introduction
Issues in Conventional Profit Theory
Islam and Profit
  Interest in Islam
  Rent Related Issues
  Labor-Related Issues
  Issues Related to Wages
Conclusion
References
5 Conventional and Islamic Trading Frameworks:
Differences and Similarities
- What Is Trading Framework?
- Differences and Similarities Between Conventional and Islamic Trading Frameworks
- The Philosophy of Risk-Sharing
- Conclusion
- References

6 Issues Auxiliary to Islamic Trading Framework
Introduction
Structure of Markets
Issues with the Traditional Market Assumptions
Government Intervention and Islamic Trading Framework
Business Ethics in Islam
Conclusion
References

7 Conclusion
Reference

Index