Workers’ Self-Management in Argentina

Contesting Neo-liberalism
by Occupying Companies, Creating Cooperatives, and Recuperating Autogestión

By

Marcelo Vieta
Contents

Preface  xiii
Acknowledgements  xxvi
List of Figures and Tables  xxix
Abbreviations and Acronyms  xxxi

Introduction  1
1 Neo-liberal Crisis, Popular Revolt, and Autogestión  1
2 The Approach  7
3 What We Will Learn  16
4 ERTs' Symbolic Dimension, Legitimacy, and the 'Moral Economy of Work'  24
5 Anticipating the 'Dual Reality' of Argentina's ERTs  30

PART 1

The Emergence of Argentina's Empresas Recuperadas por sus Trabajadores: From Workers' Lived Experiences of Crisis to Autogestión

1 'Destiny in Our Own Hands': Three Stories of Workplace Recuperations  37
1 Cooperativa de Trabajo Chilavert Artes Gráficas  40
2 Cooperativa de Trabajo 'Unión Solidaria de Trabajadores'  62
3 Cooperativa de Trabajo de la Salud Junín  77
4 Mobilising Direct Action Strategies and Workplace Solidarity  96

1 Section 1: The Emergence of Argentina's Empresas Recuperadas (with Andrés Ruggeri)  99
2 Section 2: ERT Types and Experiences of Workplace Conversions around the World  132
3 The Emergence and Characteristics of Empresas Recuperadas: A Summation  165
3 The Political Economy of Argentina’s Working Class: Historical Underpinnings of the Empresas Recuperadas 169
1 Section 1: The Rise and Consolidation of Argentina’s Working Class (1900–89) 172
2 Section 2: Argentina’s Neo-liberal Turn and the After-Effects of Socio-economic Crisis (1990–2016) 196
3 Section 3: Working-Class Recomposition and New Forms of Self-Managed Workers’ Organisations (2001–17) 218
4 ERTS and the Political Economy of the Working Class in Argentina: A Summation 236

PART 2
Theorising and Historicising Autogestión

4 The Stream of Self-Determination: Freedom, Cooperation, and the Recuperations of Living Labour 241
1 Section 1: The Stream of Self-Determination and Modern Socialist Thought 243
2 Section 2: Critical Theories of Labour and Capitalist Technology 272
3 Section 3: ERTS’ Six Recuperative Moments 285
4 Cooperative Self-Determination, Recuperation, and Argentina’s ERTS: Looking Forward 295

5 A Genealogy of Autogestión 298
1 Section 1: Autogestión and the Self-Determination of Productive Life 299
2 Section 2: Cooperatives, the Social and Solidarity Economy, and Autogestión 324
3 Autogestión and the Continuing Stream of Self-Determination 345

PART 3
The Consolidation of Argentina’s Empresas Recuperadas: Common Experiences, Challenges, and Social Transformations

6 ‘Occupy, Resist, Produce’: Commonalities in the Lived Experiences of Recuperating Workplaces in Argentina (with Andrés Ruggeri) 351
1 Section 1: From Workplace Conflicts to Autogestión 352
2 Section 2: The Strategies and Tactics of ‘Occupy, Resist, Produce’ 363
3 Re-appropriating Relevant Laws, Deploying Cooperative Values 402
CONTENTS

7 The Challenges of Autogestión and ERTE Workers’ Responses 404
   1 Section 1: Production Challenges 406
   2 Section 2: An Ambivalent Relationship with the State 438
   3 Section 3: Local and Transnational Solidarity Networks of Autogestión 452
   4 Organising Between ERTEs and the Community to Collectively Overcome Challenges 462

8 Recuperating the Labour Process, Transforming Subjectivities: From Empleados to Compañeros and Trabajadores Autogestionados 465
   1 Section 1: Cooperatively Working and Democratising the Shop 467
   2 Section 2: Recuperating Cooperative Skills and Values, Informal Shop Floor Learning, and Transformed Subjectivities 492
   3 Section 3: Recuperating Social Production for Social Wealth 506
   4 Challenging ERTE’s ‘Dual Reality’ 514

PART 4
Recuperating Autogestión

9 Recuperating Autogestión, Prefiguring Alternatives: Some Possible Conclusions 517
   1 On Workers’ Recuperations of Autogestión 517
   2 The Conjunctural Realities of Argentina’s ERTEs 521
   3 Autogestión and Argentina’s ERTEs 535
   4 Revisiting ERTEs’ ‘Dual Reality’ 539
   5 Revisiting ERTEs’ Radical Social Innovations and Recuperative Moments 543
   6 Revisiting the Definition of Argentina’s Empresas Recuperadas por sus Trabajadores 548
   7 Closing Thoughts, Continued Openings 551

Appendix: Formal Interviews Conducted, Meetings Attended, and Cooperatives Visited 555
Glossary of Spanish and Other Foreign Terms and Phrases 559
Bibliography 565
Index 624